ANOTHER [illegible]

The statement in the Times, of yesterday morning, that the Republicans of this city furnished the funds for firing the Breckinridge salute a day or two ago, is simply untrue. The Republicans have other and better uses for their money.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Forney has put his foot on the plan for an union of the Douglas men and Breckinridgeites in Pennsylvania. He is too shrewd a politician to be caught in the trap which was set for his friends, the nature of which we explained yesterday morning. Now we shall see [illegible] knife—two electoral tickets, and two State tickets in the field, each of [illegible] will be furiously supported by its [illegible] it, husband! Pitch in, bear.

OREGON ELECTION.

[illegible] was held in Oregon on the 5th [illegible] of Congress and Legis[illegible] State Senators were al[illegible] of the overland [illegible] with dates to [illegible] result from [illegible] counties. The tele[illegible] states that they indicate a Republican triumph. The two counties as reported compare as follows with the vote they cast in 1858 for Congress:

	Cong. '58. Dem.	Cong. '58. Rep.	Cong. '60. Dem.	Cong. '60. Rep.
Jackson	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Josephine	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	137
Total	[illegible]	[illegible]	1128	605

This exhibits a Republican gain of 117 in the two counties. But we must wait for news from the interior counties before concluding that Logan is elected. When we hear from Marion, Clackamas, Douglass, Lane, Benton, Linn, Munomah, Washington and Yamhill counties, we shall be better able to conclude how the State has gone. If the Republicans have won the victory it secures two United States Senators.

THE ZOUAVE CADETS.

We beg leave to commend the Zouave Cadets of this city to the press of the East as young gentlemen whose military skill and discipline, and whose correct deportment and good habits entitle them to esteem and respect. They are about to visit a few of the larger Eastern cities; and if during their absence they teach other volunteer companies that the dissipation which too frequently accompanies amateur military exercise, is only a detraction from the good name of the corps in which it is practised, their visit will not have been in vain. We believe we are not mistaken when we say there is not an unworthy young man in the company.

The Vacant Lands around Chicago—Geo. Steel's Farms.

The opinion has very generally prevailed, that the lands about Chicago were unfit for gardening or farming purposes. To the naked eye they appear perfectly flat, and, a few years ago, they approached so nearly the condition of a swamp, being covered with water so large a portion of the year, that only reeds and coarse swamp grass would grow upon them—that almost every body regarded them as nearly if not entirely valueless. The owners of them were generally pitied, and for years they were a standing joke among the property owners of the city.

The last half dozen years have shown how entirely false were these opinions. Roads and streets have been thrown up in all directions, the gutters of which drain off the water into the Chicago River, and, though it may seem a wild prediction, we believe in ten years more the farms in the vicinity of Chicago will be able, both in the amount and the variety of their products, to compete with any others in the northern half of the State. It is conceded that the soil in a state of nature is not so good, for instance, as that in the Rock River valley; but the abundance of manure which the stables of the city will furnish free of charge, will soon remedy that defect, and when all our prairie becomes thoroughly drained, as it soon will be, no farming in the State will be more productive and profitable than that in the vicinity of Chicago.

Those of our older citizens who a few years ago have been a whole day wading through the mud and water between Chicago and the Des Plaines, and who have not kept posted in regard to the improvements going on around us, may regard the above paragraphs as apochryphal. But a ride of half a day, and a careful inspection of a few farms that we can name, will convince any man that we have stated simple facts. Such a ride we had on [illegible] morning with Geo. Steel, Esq., and in nothing that we have seen in or around Chicago have we been more surprised than in looking at the crops now growing on his farm, one to one and a half miles west of the city limits. The first farm we visited lies upon the South Branch, a little Northwest of Bridgeport. No portion of the prairie west of Chicago can furnish a better illustration of what drainage and cultivation can accomplish, for this farm three years ago was literally a part of Mud Lake. Perhaps all of our citizens do not know that Mud Lake, as found on the old maps, exists no more, for it has been drained by cutting a ditch through a low ridge, and most if not all of it is now susceptible of cultivation. Mr. Steel's farm consists of 125 acres. He commenced ditching and otherwise improving it two years since, and up to this time he has spent upon it in fences, ditches, buildings, &c., about a thousand dollars. The change must be almost like the work of magic, for where three years ago the water was knee deep, in midsummer, Mr. Steel's servant, William Graham, an intelligent, hard working Scotch farmer has fifty five acres under cultivation. His oats, corn, barley, potatoes, mangelwurtzel, carrots, etc., promise an abundant yield. He keeps thirty-two cows, and sells milk in the city to the amount of $3.50 per day. He has nine horses and mules, and everything about him bespeaks the thrifty, prosperous farmer. Like a shrewd business man, Mr. Steel rents his farm for comparatively a small sum, but that already pays a handsome interest on the entire investment, while the appreciation of the land is immense. This tenant is fairly coining money, while thousands of others are whining in cheerless poverty. Let them go to work, and patient industry and economy will very soon surround them with abundance, or at least with whatever is really necessary for the comfort of themselves and their families. And yet, as regards the lands around Chicago, the men without work and without capital are not wholly to blame. Let others do as Mr. Steel has done, spend a small amount in securing drainage, buildings, &c., and then rent to tenants at living [illegible], so that industry and enterprise can find proper encouragement, and in five years there will not be an eighty acre lot within twenty miles of Chicago that will not be returning a handsome rental to the owners. We were glad [illegible] a finely improved lot of twenty acres, [illegible] of Mr. Steel, belonging to Allan Robbins, Esq. He has three eighty acre lots, of which this forms a part, and if they were all improved in the same manner, they would not only be worth a hundred per cent. more than they now are, but they would command a rental which would very soon pay for all the improvements.

We visited two other farms belonging to Mr. Steel, near the first, and partly adjoining on the Southwestern Plank Road. One of these, consisting of 215 acres, has been under cultivation some six years. Mr. John Frasier, the tenant, keeps 45 cows and 12 horses, and his crops of hay, corn, potatoes &c., &c., will compare favorably with those we have seen in other parts of the State.

The adjoining farm of 190 acres, has been under cultivation some four years. Mr. Wm. Covert is the tenant, and without mentioning particulars, we see not why if anybody can make money by farming, he cannot soon lay by enough to buy a farm of his own.

The thrifty appearance of the forest and fruit trees on all these farms attracted our attention. Several acres on the first farm noticed, have been underdrained by tiles, and are devoted to an orchard and for the time the trees have been set out they showed as much health and thrift as we have seen anywhere at the West.

Last spring we urged upon the owners of the vacant lands about Chicago the importance of bringing them under cultivation. If they wish proof positive of what can be done with them, we ask them to spend half a day as we did in visiting Mr. Steel's farms. We make the broad assertion that no large commercial city in the Union is surrounded with so large a section of country, that is so well adapted to horticultural purposes; and yet everybody knows that vegetables are nowhere else so scarce and so dear. Let two years suffice to remedy this evil. Then may we hope that manufactures can prosper, for living would be brought within the means of the toiling mechanic. Meats, flour, &c., are cheaper here than elsewhere, and if vegetables of all kinds also become plenty and cheap, it would promote directly and immensely the manufacturing and other industrial interests of the city.

No fears need be entertained that the market for vegetables, poultry, milk, &c., &c., will become over-stocked. In the vicinity of all large cities no business pays better. We hope therefore that the owners of the vacant lands about Chicago will follow the good example set them by Mr. Steel, and that within the next three years every acre between Evanston, Blue Island and the Des Plaines will be brought under successful and profitable cultivation.

The Four Parties.

The position of the various parties may be thus stated:

The National Democrats are for Slavery.

The Douglas Squatterites are against Freedom.

The Bell Everett Union Savers are for and against—Nothing.

The Republicans are for Freedom and the Rights of Man. Choose ye which you will support.

Newspapers for Breckinridge.

The following newspapers in Massachusetts will support the Breckinridge ticket:—The Boston Post, Lowell Advertiser, New Bedford Times, Greenfield Democrat, Barnstable Patriot, Salem Advocate, Essex County Democrat, Lawrence Sentinel, and Pittsfield Sun.

☞ The Democrats call the Lincoln men "Black Republicans," because they want to keep the negroes black. Their opponents should be called "Mulatto Democrats" as their main efforts are directed toward bleaching the darkies. The "best blood" of the Democracy runs in the veins of the "peculiar property."

☞ There is in the Madison Courier of Monday a curious cut entitled "Democracy." It represents a big rooster cut in two crosswise through the middle, with the names Douglas and Johnson at the bird's head and Breckinridge and Lane at its tail. Upon the space between the fowl's severed halves are the words "Irrepressible Nigger."

☞ The Baltimore Republican declares for Breckinridge. "It is a matter of deep regret," it says, "to feel that we are to battle with a powerful foe, while our own forces are divided. But we shall do our duty, and leave the results to that overruling Providence who can evolve light out of darkness, and give the victory to those who will best serve the great purposes of his Government." This means that Lincoln will be elected.

☞ The Newark Evening Journal comes out for Breckinridge and Lane, who, it says, are preferred by a large majority of the Democrats of New Jersey. The Journal thinks the Douglas men in that State ought to support the Seceders' candidates, under pain of seeing both factions beaten by Lincoln. No doubt.

☞ "Under which king, Bezonian? Speak or die!" We insist upon it that every Democrat shall pluck his red or white rose, and wear it in his cap to denote to which of the rival factions he belongs.

☞ How on earth can the Democratic party be expected to preserve the Union of the States when it couldn't preserve its own union?

Republican Ratification Meeting in Brooklyn.

The largest political meeting ever assembled in Brooklyn, was held in the Park Wednesday evening to ratify the nomination of Lincoln and Hamlin. The Park was filled, and the enthusiasm of the people was intense, although there was a little of the lugubrious at the beginning of the speaking. Several bands of music were in attendance, and the sky for some time before the meeting commenced, was ablaze with rockets. Aside from the immense assembly in the Park, a large meeting was held in and in front of the wigwam.

The Hon. Daniel Ullman was introduced. He spoke of the importance and the magnitude of the questions before the country in the Presidential canvass before us. In the year 1856 a large majority of the voters of the country were opposed to the Democratic party—a majority of more than 400,000 votes, twice as many votes as were ever cast for George Washington. Had the 2,200,000 who supported Fremont and Fillmore combined, we should have been saved the deep disgrace of James Buchanan. [Loud applause.] He was not there to take back anything he had done, but for the last two years he had labored for the union of the Republican and American parties.

Speeches were also made by Frank Blair, George Field, J. S. T. Stranahan and others.

After a capital song by the Rocky Mountain Glee Club, the meeting adjourned with three loud cheers for the candidates.

IN THE WIGWAM.

At half-past nine o'clock a procession of various clubs, headed by the Lincoln and Hamlin Battalion of the Rocky Mountain Glee Club, with torches, and including delegations from Jersey City, arrived at the City Hall, and having marched around, and through the meeting held there, entered the Wigwam, which is near by, and were there addressed by Messrs. W. B. Lewis, who was called to the chair; James Humphreys, Benjamin Van Riper, of the Jersey City delegation, Wm. H. Burleigh, Esq., and W. H. Gale. The speeches were effective, and the audience enthusiastic.

Old Whigs of New York City.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, June 28.]

We learn that a goodly number of well-known and influential citizens who have not hitherto acted with the Republican party, but who believe that the peace, dignity, tranquility and prosperity of the country will be promoted by the election of Lincoln and Hamlin, are preparing to hold a City Meeting to respond to and ratify their nomination. Most of them are Clay Whigs of other days, who supported Mr. Fillmore in '56, partly from State pride and personal regard, but in part also because he was the only candidate in nomination for President who had shared in their previous struggles or who was deemed by them sound in his views with regard to the internal policy and legislative needs of the country. Believing Mr. Lincoln to be substantially with them on these important topics, they have resolved to be with him, and to swell by their numbers the invincible host that is mustering to march to victory under his banner. They will invite speakers from different parts of the country, and appeal to all who believe there is need of reform at Washington to co-operate with them. Their meeting will doubtless be a large one.

Fernando Wood.

We learn with pleasure that the Hon. Fernando Wood completed his arrangements with the Albany Regency and Tammany Hall yesterday. He goes for Douglas henceforth with all his might, and is therefor to be (if not cheated) placed at the head of the Soft Electoral Ticket. Mr. Dean Richmond, who negotiated this adjustment, left for the rural districts last evening in the confident assurance that the country is safe.

The Mayor has not been able to include his late friends in the capitulation. The "Hard Shells" resist all allurements to place themselves in antagonism to their Southern brethren. Though aggrieved by their treatment at Charleston, they are about to raise the flag of Breckinridge and Lane, and fight the battle under it in the fullest assurance that this will be recognized hereafter as the genuine, unsullied, Simon Pure Democracy, and that the Douglas imitation will be branded as bogus, not in the South only, but throughout the country.—N. Y. Tribune.

From Washington.

[Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, June 27, 1860.

THE NATIONAL DEMOCRACY.

The old National Democratic Committee and Organization here are broken up and abandoned. The friends of Mr. Breckinridge and Mr. Douglas have organized separately, and appointed Committees entirely distinct and hostile to each other. The leaders of both interests openly proclaim there is no possibility of compromise between them, and neither side will countenance the efforts making in certain States to run combined electoral tickets for the benefit of local politicians who fear to espouse either candidate.

A SENSIBLE ADMISSION.

Leading Democratic Senators admit that the success of the Republicans is inevitable, but are determined to make the fight in order to expose the weakness of Mr. Douglas.

THE PROSPECTS OF DOUGLAS SOUTH.

From present indications, Mr. Douglas will have hardly any organization South. His professed friends in that section are retreating every day and in scores. Mr. Clingman, who has stood up for him among the last here, will give in his adhesion to Breckinridge as soon as the North Carolina Convention ratifies his nomination. Others are seeking excuses to back out since Mr. Fitzpatrick withdrew.

THE CALIFORNIA MAILS.

No temporary or other arrangement has yet been made for carrying the California mails via Panama. The Postmaster-General refuses to entertain any proposition but one strictly within the provisions of the law, which only allows the postages. And he will not permit the mails to be carried with any condition or recognized contingency by which a future claim may be preferred against Congress for additional compensation. This strict interpretation does not [illegible]

CONSTITUTION TO BE SUSTAINED.

As the Constitution has hoisted Mr. Breckinridge's name to-day, an effort may be made to sustain it by his friends during the canvass, as its stoppage now might be subject to misconstruction. The investment will hardly pay a dividend.

THE PRICE OF PRINTING.

The printers of Congress and their confederates are in a quandary, since the reduction in the price of 40 per cent., whether to throw up the work or to continue and trust to Congress for an increase of pay next winter. They contend that this arbitrary discount is ruinous, and that Mr. Haskin's resolution proposing it was only intended for Buncombe.

What the N. Y. Herald Says.

Mayor Wood, who was on Tuesday in Washington, comparing notes with the President, and with Vice President Breckinridge and Mr. Douglas, respectively, in behalf of a system of joint stock electoral tickets, was yesterday in this city (having traveled all night to be in time), engaged in an earnest consultation with Dean Richmond, that profound and long headed old quack doctor of the Albany Regency.

Of the results of these patriotic endeavors of our indefatigable Mayor to stop the leaks in the old broken backed hulk of the forlorn democracy, we are not officially informed. The case, we understand, however, pronounced somewhat desperate, is not considered utterly hopeless, and that further efforts are to be made to get the wreck off the bar before extreme low tide, when, if not removed, the heavy surf of Black Republicanism will certainly tear her all to pieces.

But the mutual hostilities among these parties are considered so intense as to render it absolutely impossible even for the lion tamer, Van Amburg, or the horse tamer, Rarey, to bring them together in the same enclosure. Still, many stranger things in politics than this suggested coalition have happened, and, in view of the spoils, our hungry politicians of all stripes may be caged together as readily as Barnum's happy family of eagles and rabbits, owls and Guinea pigs, cats, rats and monkeys.

There is, however, a dark side to the picture. Sanders, our late Navy Agent, and the faithful Sancho Panza to Mr. Douglas, has been beheaded. Ominous execution this.

Rumor says, too, that the Cabinet at Washington were engaged all day yesterday and all night greasing the guillotine.

On the other side, it appears that the Douglas National Committee at Washington, August Belmont in the chair, have resolved that in each State measures be taken to secure an electoral ticket, "pledged to the unequivocal support of the nominees of the National Democratic Convention, Stephen A. Douglas and H. V. Johnson." All these things, thrown into the general account, do not promise a very large success to the labor of love undertaken by Mayor Wood. The Republicans may thus ride roughshod over and trample down the disbanded Democracy as a corps of heavy dragoons would disperse an undisciplined mob; and we have no objection to this rough proceeding. We are in the midst of a revolution, a great and far reaching revolution; we are for this revolution. If it be necessary to its progress that the broken fragments of the rotten Democracy shall be ground to powder, as between the upper and the nether millstone, even so let it be.

Ratification at Albany.

ALBANY, Wednesday, June 27, 1860.

The Republicans of the State Capital are holding a ratification meeting to-night. The meeting is marked by much spirit and enthusiasm. Large bands of Republicans, with illuminations bearing all sorts of appropriate inscriptions, are parading the principal streets, and there is a grand torchlight procession on State street. Bonfires are blazing all over the city.

The Wide-Awake Club, numbering some 200 young men, dressed uniformly in capes and military caps, are parading with torches, and make a brilliant feature in the display. The principal streets are brilliantly illuminated and full of people, whose enthusiasm reminds old citizens of the campaign of 1840. Many thousands of people are assembled in Capitol Park, where a large platform is erected for speakers.

Mr. B. H. Mills, President of the General Committee, called the meeting to order, and nominated the Hon. E. D. Morgan for Chairman. He was received with great applause. Messrs. Martin J. Townsend of Troy, Owen Lovejoy of Illinois, Gen. Wilson of Indiana, the Hon. Chas. L. Beale, and others, were among the speakers.

The meeting was enthusiastic, and demonstrated that the Republicans at the Capital are roused. At 10½ a large delegation arrived from Hudson, and was received by the Wide-Awakes with cannon firing and music, and a procession was formed to conduct them to the meeting; they fired Roman candles as they walked up State street Hill. The sight was quite imposing, and the meeting quite a success.

Missouri Politics.

ST. LOUIS, June 27, 1860.

Painfully conscious of the weakness of the Douglas faction in this State, the Missouri Republican pretends to ignore completely the existence of the National Democratic Breckinridge party in this city, and would circulate the idea that it is at least destitute of enthusiasm, by means of insinuating interrogatories. The facts, however, are contrary to the inclinations and heresies of the Douglas organ. A call has already been signed by several hundred citizens for a grand and imposing Breckinridge ratification meeting, to come off next week, and the Democracy will go prepared to protect themselves from a repetition of the insults offered them by a Douglas mob, at their impromptu demonstration on Monday evening. Among the names to the above call is that of John Hogan, Postmaster.

John B. Henderson, Douglas candidate for Congress in the Second District, has declared his intention to withdraw from the canvass.

The meeting at the Democratic Headquarters to night, to ratify the nomination of Douglas and Johnson, is pretty well attended, but lacks enthusiasm. A good display of fireworks was made.

Another Lottery Swindle.

A respectable law firm in this city lately received a swindling circular, which at first sight is well calculated to deceive a person not properly posted on such affairs and the myriad schemes adopted by which the "needful" may be raised. The following is a copy of the epistle in question, which to more effectually gull the victim is lithographed, and much resembles a common business letter, with the usual ornamental heading, etc.:

WILMINGTON, Delaware, June 20, 1860.

DEAR SIR:—Having a large correspondence in almost every section of country but yours, and being satisfied that we cannot introduce our lotteries to advantage in your neighborhood until we send a good prize to some one living there, we offer it to you. We will, of course, expect you to make it known among your acquaintances, that you have drawn a handsome prize at our office, otherwise no benefit will accrue to us from this arrangement. If you will do that, please send without delay for a certificate of 26 sixteenths of tickets in the Delaware State Lottery, class 346, to be drawn under the management of Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., on the 21st July. To show you our faith in the certificate, we promise that if it does not draw at least $4,000, we will give you another certificate in one of our Extra Lotteries for nothing. Let us know how you wish the money sent to you, and send us $10 in your letter to pay the managers for the certificate. Please keep this letter strictly confidential until we send you the money, and use the enclosed envelope to put your letter in. We sent $12,000 last month to Virginia in this way, and we have no doubt your luck will be equally as good.

Please send immediately.

Very respectfully,
HAMMETT & CO.

That promise to send a $4,000 prize ticket, guaranteed to draw, for the small sum of ten dollars is decidedly tempting; but the proviso, that, should it not draw they will keep on sending tickets, rather caps the climax. It would appear that the ten dollars is what they want, and if they get it, the person sending runs just the same chance—and no better—of getting a prize, that he does of being struck by lightning.

Let all of our readers be on their guard against such generous, whole-souled fellows as Messrs. Hammett & Co.

☞ The funeral of the Rev. Thomas Hoge will be attended from the North Presbyterian Church at 10 A. M. to-day. The friends of A. H. Hoge and family are invited to be present.

THE CITY.

Auction Sale This Morning.

Auction sale this morning at 9½ o'clock, of Household Furniture, Carpets, and Silver Plated Ware, by Gilbert & Sampson, auctioneers, 82 Lake street.

☞ Ladies will not forget Miss Dr. Buckle's lecture, this afternoon, in Lind's Block.

FAREWELL.—The Rev. J. E. Roy will preach his farewell discourse in the Plymouth Church, Sunday evening, at a quarter before 8 o'clock.

☞ Smoking cars have been placed upon all the passenger trains running on the Michigan Central Railroad.

☞ The man who was drowned at Ogden's bridge on the fifteenth of the present month, has been identified as one John Theodore Thurston Madler, a Norwegian sailor.

PLEASURE EXCURSION.—On Monday afternoon at four o'clock, the steamer Comet leaves this port for Grand Haven and Muskegon, touching at Kenosha, with a pleasure party. They will return, leaving Muskegon on Tuesday evening, and arrive here on Wednesday morning.

COAL FALLING.—The extensive coal yard of J. S. Newhouse, on Madison street, near the bridge, yesterday experienced a "slide" into the street of the whole Madison front, smashing the sidewalk and otherwise damaging things generally. It will probably cost a hundred dollars to restore the unruly coal to its original position.

☞ To all those afflicted with diseases of the feet, we would say read Dr. Schlosser's advertisement in another column. He remains in the city but four days longer. The Dr. has numerous testimonials from citizens of Chicago and elsewhere as to his successful treatment which may be seen at his rooms in the Tremont House.

☞ It will be observed by referring to our advertising columns this morning, that Messrs. Taber, Hawk & Co., of the Hyde Park Hotel, have made especial preparations for those who may wish a quiet place to escape to, during the noise and confusion to be expected in a city on the ensuing Anniversary of our National Independence.

☞ The U. S. Zouave Cadets made a splendid appearance at their public parade yesterday, and the great curiosity to see them, in quarters, at a public exhibition drill, will be gratified this evening by appearing at the Wigwam. This is positively their "last appearance" previous to their departure for the East. Tickets for sale at the bookstores, banks, and eating houses.

EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY.—Messrs. Smith and Schaub, convicted and sentenced some months since to a half year's residence at the Bridewell, for aiding in reducing a young girl to prostitution, have been pardoned by Governor Wood, and were released last Saturday. They are abroad, now, as large as life and twice as natural.

☞ A German by the name of Andrew Miller was injured yesterday at about 3 P. M., by the caving in of an embankment under which he and several others were at work in front of the Revere House. All of his body was covered up with mud, stones and plank, his head alone remaining above ground. Fortunately he was not seriously bruised, but was taken home for repairs.

CIRCUIT COURT.—Mary Ann Steele, the Edina Place murderess, who plead guilty of manslaughter, was yesterday morning sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment at Joliet, ten days of each year to be solitary confinement.

The sentence of the two Evanston rioters was postponed again until Monday.

A hay stealing suit was on trial in the afternoon, but it had not come to a head when the Court "went to grass"—adjourned for the day.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.—The propeller R. H. Foss, which left this port for Muskegon, Mich., on Thursday night, met with a serious accident when about fifteen miles distant from here. She was running under seventy-five pounds of steam when she burst a boiler and badly scalded the fireman and several of the deck hands. No cause has yet been assigned for the explosion. Her boilers were tested but a fortnight since and bore a pressure of one hundred and thirty pounds.

☞ A second Pike's Peak has been discovered in a stone quarry west of the city. It is said that the bitumenous limestone, of which the Second Presbyterian Church is built, and an inexhaustible supply of which there is in the quarry alluded to, has been found to contain fifty per cent. of salpetre, and an unknown amount of inflammable gas, besides a residue of pure lime. If this prove true, the proprietors of the land in which the stone is found may begin to count themselves Pike's Peakers of the first magnitude.

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES AT DEARBORN SEMINARY.—The exercises at Dearborn Seminary took place on Thursday afternoon, at the institution on Wabash Avenue, before an audience composed of pupils, and many of their friends and relatives. The room was tastefully decorated, and on its walls were displayed numerous pencil, crayon and water-color drawings by the pupils. In the afternoon compositions were read by the graduating class, diplomas presented, and an address was delivered by Prof. S. C. Bartlett, of the Union Park Seminary, upon "The Christian model of a young woman."

BOSTON, AHOY!—The fast sailing schooner Gem, owned by James Peck & Co., and commanded by that very "ancient mariner," Jack Redfield, cleared yesterday with a full cargo of corn for Boston, Mass. direct. This is the first shipment from Chicago to that port, and we hear the brig P. H. Harmon and barque Norman have also sailed for the same destination. If the Bostonians should some fine morning discover a very fast clipper schooner approaching, they can prepare to receive Capt. Jack, for he is some on time. The aggregate of corn carried by the three vessels amounts to 39,603 bushels.

BOY KILLED.—A boy about seven years of age, son of Peter Flinn, was yesterday run over by a train of cars on the St. Louis, Alton and Chicago Railroad, about half past ten A. M., and has since died from his injuries. The lad was attempting to get on board the train when it was in motion, at the corner of Mather and Beech street, at the time, and was thrown beneath the cars and one leg nearly severed from his body. He died at eleven on Thursday night. An inquest was yesterday held by Coroner James, at the corner of Canal and Old streets, and a verdict rendered in accordance with the facts.

FACTS FOR THE PEOPLE.—Rev. J. Coddling, of Princeton, Bureau county, has just issued a campaign pamphlet of about 100 pages under the above title. This little book puts in a condensed form, and easy of reference, the principles, facts and authorities generally required in a Republican argument, well adapted to refute any and all arguments and assertions which the slavery propagandists may enunciate. It embraces a biographical sketch of Abraham Lincoln; Mr. Lincoln's personal appearance and habits; a refutation of the idea that there can be property in man; the "irrepressible conflict;" Dred Scott decision; important tables and statistics; freedom of speech at the South; and a thousand other things which touch the points at issue. Every man who wishes to be well posted for the campaign should buy it. For sale by S. C. Griggs & Co., and McNally.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.—A girl aged about fourteen years has suddenly and mysteriously disappeared from her father's house, No. 317 Wells street, and has not been seen or heard from since Thursday afternoon, at about four o'clock. No cause can at present be given for her disappearance, but suspicions of foul play of some sort are entertained by her friends. The absent girl is the daughter of Moses Herts, and he and all the members of his family are in the utmost distress of mind at her strange and unaccountable absence. The father has furnished the following description of his missing child, in hopes that it may assist in her recovery:

As before stated, Miss Herts is about fourteen years of age, is four feet in height, and was dressed when she left, in a lilac and white muslin dress, lilac colored basque, with collar, a pink sun-bonnet and black gaiters.

Miss Herts was a pupil of Jones School, corner of Clark and Harrison streets.

Mr. Herts will pay a suitable reward for information which may lead to the return of his daughter.

When Does Forbearance Cease to be a Virtue?

The PRESS AND TRIBUNE has before this called attention to the villainous condition of North Clark street. Our correspondent S. so forcibly sums up the dangers to be encountered on that mythical thoroughfare, that we print his letter entire:

MESSRS. EDITORS: Are not the citizens of North Chicago—and especially those who do business and own property on North Clark street—a quiet, forbearing and uncomplaining people? Read the following (or pay to cross the river in a dug out, as you will have to do,) and see the condition of North Clark street, at the corner of North Water only; and then answer me. Or, let me inquire, if any city official will answer in the negative?

For many years past, there has been scarcely a summer that North Clark street has not been torn up to re-grade, or re-plank, or water-pipe, or gas-pipe, or sewer it, and it is no sooner made passable, than all communication with the South side has been cut off by a defective, worn-out, or broken-down bridge. During all this time, the Galena Railroad has kept its trains of cars—from three to four hundred feet in length—dancing backwards and forwards, (a steam reel) across Clark street, endangering life and limb of all who travel said street. This they have constantly promised to remedy, (in part,) by making up their trains on the West or South Side; but the annoyance is as great to-day as ever.

I can scarcely describe all the obstructions to and in said Clark street at this time, without making this article too long. It would astonish any one unacquainted with the facts to cross the river, and view the crossings of North Water and Clark. If you escape drowning in crossing, you will observe a fine bridge swung in the centre of the river, (which has been so for the past four or five days,) and perhaps two men upon it, looking at two paint kegs, in which there is something white. You will, in about ten or twenty steps, after crossing the water, be brought to a stand-still, until sixteen or eighteen cars, wiggle and dance backwards and forwards before you for from five to ten minutes. They pass on; and grown impatient, you dash forward across the street. If you take the east side, look out! You are sprawling over a pile of bricks, or down the cellar, where the sidewalk ought to be. If you go in the street, a little west, you are into a bed of mortar, or under the feet of the horses, or wheels of the horse cars. Take the center of the street, you find another horse car, and horses and wagons, and a crowd of pushing, frightened people, all in danger of life and limb. On the west side of said street, a large brick building has been lifted to grade, and the foundation is being put under, (the work done, I should think, by the day) and no sidewalk relaid yet. Thus you will see, there is not a sidewalk on either side of the street; and the railroad cars and building materials occupy all the centre. There is North Clark street laid out on the map of Chicago; but is there any such street open? Would it not be well for the property-holders and business men of that thoroughfare to call a meeting, and if no measures can be devised to have this street kept open and passable, then petition the Council to vacate it. People should no longer be decoyed to risk their lives in attempting to cross the river, where there is no bridge in repair, no sidewalk, no street.

Yours, S.

Press & Tribune.

SATURDAY, JUNE 30, 1860.

TO OUR READERS.

We shall endeavor to print as little in regard to politics as possible. The excitement of the people in anticipation of a much-needed and beneficent change of the Administration at Washington, in view of the deep dissensions in that false and fallen Democratic party, of the certainty that HONEST OLD ABE will be elected, and that the country will return to the principles and policy of other and better days, demands that a part, and perhaps the larger part, of our space should be given to political discussion. But while doing our share in arousing and maintaining the enthusiasm of the people, in disseminating political information, in convincing the reason and judgment of those for whom we labor, we shall not neglect other and equally important matters. The PRESS AND TRIBUNE is primarily a Commercial Newspaper. Its political character is not its main feature; but if in a time like that before us, when the fate of the Union and the perpetuity of our institutions seem to depend upon the proper adjustment of the questions now under discussion, we should seem to forget the news of the day and the material interests of the West, our readers may be assured that nothing but the overwhelming importance of the crisis and the necessity which exists for every lover of his country to do his share in the work of national reform, have diverted us from our main purpose; and that, as soon as victory sits upon the Republican banner, we shall gladly return to the path in which we are accustomed to tread.

In the meantime, we ask our readers' indulgence. We try conscientiously and unceasingly to make a paper worthy of support—one worthy of the West. If we fail, those, after ourselves, most interested, will be sure to let us know.

THE VOTE OF ILLINOIS.

Our friends at a distance who are inquiring how the nomination of Douglas will affect this State, may be assured that nothing but hope and confidence prevail among Mr. LINCOLN'S friends. It is true that the Sham Democratic party of Illinois is the Douglas party; but it is just as true that the Republicans under LINCOLN'S lead beat them in 1858, and that they do not doubt their power to do it again by a largely increased majority. The Douglasites will muster courage to make a desperate rally; but as soon as they cool down enough to see, what will be plainly apparent even to them, that Breckinridge will carry the entire South, and that the giving of two or three Northern States to their candidate will be the means of killing him outright, they will moderate their zeal and allow the State to go by default, if they do not, as we now anticipate, vote for LINCOLN to make assurance doubly sure.

WHO IS TO BE CHEATED?

It is beginning to be surmised that it is Mr. BRECKINRIDGE, rather than Old Joe Lane, after all, who is to be made President, if Douglas shall succeed in running the election into the House of Representatives. The States of Delaware, Virginia, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Missouri, California and Oregon—thirteen in all, are secured beyond peradventure to Mr. Breckinridge already. Seventeen States being required to elect, it becomes necessary for him to secure only four more to make his calling and election sure—to wit: Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and either Maryland or Illinois.

The vote of KENTUCKY in the House of Representatives stands as follows:

Democrats.	South Americans.
Henry C. Burnett,	Francis Bristow,
Samuel O. Peyton,	Wm. C. Anderson,
John Y. Brown,	Green Adams,
Wm. E. Sims,	Robert Mallory,
J. W. Stevenson—5.	Laban T. Moore—5.

It is hardly to be supposed that one of these South American members cannot be induced to vote for the candidate of Kentucky. Messrs. Bristow and Mallory have voted uniformly with the Democracy on all test questions during the past session, and it is calculated they would go over to Breckinridge without a moment's hesitation.

The vote of TENNESSEE stands:

Democrats.	South Americans.
James H. Thomas,	Thos. R. Nelson,
John V. Wright,	Horace Maynard,
Wm. T. Avery,—3.	R. B. Brabson,
	Wm. B. Stokes,
	Robert Hatton,
	Emerson Etheridge,
	James M. Quarles,—7.

Mr. Maynard, who figures in the South American column, is about the worst pro-slavery man in the country, and he repeatedly voted for the Democratic candidates for Speaker of the House. He may as well be transferred to the Breckinridge side at once,—leaving the parties 4 to 6. Messrs. Nelson, Stokes and Etheridge would undoubtedly stand firm in resisting the election of any Democrat whomsoever. But it is doubted whether Messrs. Brabson, Hatton and Quarles would stand fire. Their constituents would undoubtedly prefer Breckinridge to old Jo. Lane for President, and if any decided decided demonstration of that character were made in their respective districts, all three might be expected to bolt from John Bell and thus carry the vote of their State for the Kentuckian. This might especially be looked for if Breckinridge should happen to get the electoral vote of Tennessee in November. Messrs. Brabson and Quarles are straight-out pro-slavery men, and an early movement on their part towards the Breckinridge side of the House would not surprise John Bell himself.

NORTH CAROLINA is divided in the House of Representatives, as follows:

Democrats.	South Americans.
Thomas Ruffin,	W. N. H. Smith,
Warren Winslow,	John A. Gilmer,
L. O'B. Branch,	Jas. M. Leach,
Burton Craige....4.	Z. B. Vance..........4

Mr. Smith already owes a debt of gratitude to the Democracy for voting in a body for him for Speaker, and it is not unlikely he would take the opportunity of squaring the account by voting for Breckinridge, if it should appear that there was no chance for Mr. Bell. His vote would give North Carolina to Breckinridge, and leave only one more State to turn the scale. But if his sense of honor would not permit him to go over to his hereditary foes, no such transcendentalism would stand in the way of Mr. Vance or Mr. Leach—two uncompromising advocates of the extension of slavery, who have steadily voted with the Democracy during the past session.

What will Mr. Douglas' country friends say if we tell them that Illinois is expected to cast that particular vote? It is even so. The Breckinridge prints are already counting on Messrs. Morris, McClernand, Robinson, Fouke, and Logan (d. w.) to go for their champion when the pinch comes, provided they cannot get MARYLAND, whose delegation in the House stands:

Democrats.	South Americans.
James W. Stewart,	E. H. Webster,
J. M. Kunkel,	J. Morrison Harris,
Geo. W. Hughes...3	H. Winter Davis.....3

Messrs. Harris and Davis will stand firm till the 4th of March, 1861, or 1865 if need be. But Mr. Webster is a thorough-paced pro-slavery man representing a rural district which contains one-third of the slaves in the State. The Breckinridge party declare that he would not stand fire a moment, and we are not prepared to say that they are mistaken in their man.

But if Douglas carries the election into the House, who cares whether Breckinridge or old Jo. Lane goes to the White House? Perhaps the honest yeomanry who throw away their votes on Douglas will have some tears to shed over their folly. Perhaps so.

ACCIDENT.—Hon. Walter D. McIndoe, one of the Republican Presidential Electors in Wisconsin, had his right hand severed at the wrist, at his saw mill, in Wausau, on the 23d inst. He had been assisting in handling lumber in and around the mill, the carriage had fed through, and run off the pinion. He stepped his left foot inside the carriage, and reached in front of the saw with his right hand, for the purpose of removing an edging. At the same instant, the man moved the carriage a little farther, not aware of his position; the movement pushed his foot and hand forward, bringing his wrist in contact with the saw, which severed it instantly.

ADVICE FOR KANSAS.

The Convention which formed the Constitution of Missouri was held in June, 1820; and by it the election of members of the State Legislature was authorized. That Legislature held its first session in the fall of that year, and chose two Senators to Congress (BARTON and BENTON), who at once proceeded to Washington, to be ready to take their seats immediately after the admission of the State. The Legislature also authorised the election of three electors of President and Vice President; and the electors so chosen met at the proper time, and cast their votes, which were forwarded to Washington, after the manner of other States in the Union. On the joint meeting of the Senate and House in February, 1821, to canvass the returns, these votes from Missouri were counted and recorded. That session terminated without the admission of Missouri; but the per diem and mileage of the two Senators and the Representative, (Scott,) was allowed them in the appropriation act. The next session of Congress convened December, 1821, and terminated without the admission of the State; but the pay of the members sent was voted as before. The State was admitted after the compliance with a certain condition, by Proclamation of the President, the next July or August.

Here is a precedent for Kansas. Though she may not be allowed to vote in the Electoral College for President and Vice-President, it is proper that she should be prepared for admission into the Union at the earliest possible moment; hence we trust that her Senators and Representatives may be ready to take their seats at the opening of the next session of Congress. The election of Lincoln may, and probably will, throw light into more than one dark place; among the other things which will possibly be illuminated, the minds of certain pro-slavery Senators are to be reckoned; and the chances are now in favor of the belief that the opposition made to the admission of Kansas will, after the election be withdrawn. Let our friends in the West be prepared for the emergency. They have a a Constitution now in force under which the requisite proceedings may be had. They will be wise if they go ahead in the direction we have indicated.

An Honest Confession.

The editor of the Albany Atlas and Argus was a delegate to the Baltimore Convention. On returning home he hoisted the Douglas ticket at the head of his columns and makes the following extraordinary confession, which corroborates the suspicions we have long entertained:

> "The admission of the southern delegations precisely as carried in the Convention—had it not been followed by a secession—would not have nominated Mr. Douglas. He could not have secured two-thirds, even of those present, and we speak confidently when we say that there was no purpose—certainly not on the part of the New York delegation—to declare him nominated without a two-thirds vote of the delegates present. Further than this we are entirely satisfied that, had there been no secession, after it had been demonstrated by a few ballots that Mr. Douglas could not receive two-thirds, he would have been withdrawn by his friends, and a harmonious nomination of some other person would have taken place. If not withdrawn, we are certain he would have been abandoned by a sufficient number to have given another candidate a two-third nomination. The secession nominated Douglas. Had there been no secession at Charleston, another candidate would have been there nominated. And had there been no secession at Charleston, another candidate would have been there nominated. And had there been no secession at Baltimore, Mr. Douglas would not have been the nominee. He is, therefore, clearly indebted to the blunders of his opponents for his nomination."

It is here confessed that it was never the intention of the New Yorkers to support Douglas, or to have him nominated; but they were obliged to play a part. The South had no confidence in them, and bolted, supposing that Confidence Cassidy, Cagger & Co. were going to stick to Douglas to the end. The Albany Regency played their cards too smart and euchred themselves. But it is clear that Douglas will receive but a sham support at their hands. The affections of the Regency are with the Seceders, and while they will publicly kiss Douglas, they will stab him under the fifth rib.

The Oldest Free Mason.

Col. John Johnson of Cincinnati has been a member of the Masonic order, in good standing, for sixty-five years. He is now in his eighty-sixth year, and is attached to McMillan Lodge, No. 141, Ohio. He is probably the oldest Free Mason in the United States. He sat in the Lodge presided over by George Washington, more than forty years.

Squatterism in New England.

The Boston Post, which has long been the recognized organ of New England Democracy, gives in its adherence to the Breckinridge ticket, on the grounds of its regularity and nationality. The Douglas nomination it says "was not only made by a Convention irregularly constituted, but was in itself a sectional nomination. It had not the support of the old Democratic States; and thus, lacking in its mode the essential quality of nationality, it is open to the most objectionable charge which can be made against a political party." Moreover, it is tainted by the horrid infection of Anti Slaveryism, so that the Post predicts that there can be but one legitimate termination of the career of the disorganizers—which is Abolitionism. "The needle is not surer to point towards the pole than are those who use this line of argument (i. e. Douglas') to ultimately drift into the pit of Abolitionism."

The Hartford Times, the leading Democratic paper of its State, is in doubt what course to take, and remarks:

> "We prefer to watch and wait for a day or two, before taking a stand. John C. Breckinridge and General Joseph Lane are the nominees of the Seceders. Gallant and popular men both, and the South will support them."

☞ The London correspondent of the New York Tribune, writing June 15th, says of the excitement in England that the collision between the Peers and the House of Commons, about the paper duty, led to a more serious agitation than those believe who are accustomed to get all their information exclusively from the London newspapers. Both the Times and the Daily News have suppressed the report of the two largely attended metropolitan meetings against the encroachments of the House of Lords, and scarcely mention the revival of the agitation at Manchester. If this impending storm blows over, their silence will be taken for political foresight; but should the present unfavorable weather continue for a fortnight, and endanger the prospects of the harvest, there will be a democratic upheaval against the House of Lords, of which the upper layers of society are scarcely aware. A bad harvest in England might at once upset English politics at home and abroad, and the backward Spring and incessant rain may do more harm than all the diplomacy of the Continent.

NEW COMPANY.—A new organization has just been completed at Grand Rapids, Mich., under the name of the "Grand Rapids Plaster Company," with a capital of $500,000, and has purchased the controlling interest in the plaster business in that city and vicinity. The officers are Francis K. Fisher, President; Charles H. Stewart, Vice-President; J. W. Converse, Secretary; William Hovey, Treasurer and Agent. The company will consolidate the whole plaster trade and region, and will immediately commence operations to extend both, having their agents at every available point in Michigan and other States for consignment and sale of the manufactured article.

Fawke's Steam Plow.

The Steam Plow, recently built in Cincinnati for this State is thus described in the Commercial:

> The Cincinnatus has been built as a model for those required by Mr. Sullivant on his broad estates in Illinois, whither it was shipped last evening. The engine is of forty horse power, weighs nine and a half tons, and draws eight large prairie "breaking plows," each one of which is quite equal for performance to one of the ordinary Illinois fashion drawn by six or eight oxen and accomplishing its acre per diem. The boiler is, of course, vertical, to enable the locomotive to ascend hill-sides, and has a tender carrying ten barrels of water, that being about one-fourth the amount required for a day's steaming. The machine is so arranged as to be entirely under the control of the driver or Engineer, whose "cab" or standing room is admirably placed for overlooking all parts of the "Plow," as well as the Prairie Sea, whose fertile surface he is to "vex with his iron heels." We shall await the report of the first practical performance of "Cincinnatus" in a field every way worthy of this grand conception.

ELOPEMENT.—The Iowa City Republican contains the particulars of a disgraceful affair occurring recently at that place. A man named Bennet left a wife and eight children at Amboy, Ill., and in company with a Mrs. Howard, who likewise had deserted a husband and two children, started for Pike's Peak, having arranged with an aged couple by the name of Little to take them through. Some difficulty occuring at Iowa City, Bennet filed an information against Mrs. Little for threatening to take his life, and came near causing the old lady to be bound over. When subsequently the true relation between Bennet and his paramour had become known to the citizens of the above place, they resolved to provide him with a coat of tar and feathers, and were taking the necessary steps for that purpose, when the twain made their escape toward the setting sun.

FROM PIKE'S PEAK.

LETTER FROM THE MINES.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

MOUNTAIN CITY, K. T., June 17, 1860.

I take this occasion of giving your readers the benefit of such observation and experience as I have made and had in a trip to this famous place, as the most devotional act practiced by men in the mountains. First, however, let me say to all men who have any business at home, stay there; those who have none, go to any other place than this, as the chances are you will regret coming; let no man come who is not prepared for a life he little knows of, which is a mountaineer's life—each [illegible].

I have traveled among the mines in the different gulches and leads, and find that some are making from five to fifteen dollars per day, while some in a lucky streak go as high as one hundred or two hundred dollars for a few days, and then run out; but by far the largest number are working for day wages, at from one fifty to three dollars per day and board, which is not equivalent to fifty cents per day in America, as they call the States. But with all this a large amount of gold is being taken out, a part of which will be sent forward during the summer; the bulk of it, however, will probably be retained by the miners and taken home this fall. Those persons having good quartz leads, and mills to work them, have a sure thing in bank, which never stops payment when worked for. Quartz mining here will give to the States more gold in one year from now than has ever been received from California in the same time. Well informed men and old miners estimate the amount to be sent forward during the season for mining, at from fifteen to twenty-five millions. So much for the gold, now for the way of getting it. First of all, in order to appreciate what I say, take two Mackinaw blankets some night when you are sure it will rain, go out into the road and lay down; if you get wet and restless, jump up and run round a little, and then go back to bed. Do this several nights, and if you do not then like it, go into a log house with no roof, and try the soft side of a board; the latter is good discipline for ground sleeping; but with all this, remember we have November nights and July days. The food is varied from beef, bacon, beans, short cake and coffee, to coffee, short cake, beans, bacon and beef.

There are said to be several ladies here, and some more so, but I confess I have no wish to see a woman in these mountains; and surely no man who has ever been here would think of bringing a wife, daughter or sister here unless devoid of all humanity. Provisions of all kinds are lower, but if half the people now here, remain through the winter, their chances for suffering will be exceedingly good.

We are living like clams at high water, at the Tremont House, kept by Hop Martin and C. A. Case of Chicago. Of course the Tremont of brick is nothing to a log Tremont. Every comfort which the mountains can afford is spread out; that is, we spread ourselves out nights on our own blankets, on the soft side of a board, and get as good meals by day as can be found in the mountains. Our host takes pride in shutting off the gas at an early hour, and having his best rooms well ventilated. We commend to all travelers to these diggings the Tremont House of the Mountains. QUARTZ.

MOVEMENTS OF THE PEOPLE.

IROQUOIS COUNTY.—The Republicans of Iroquois county held their Convention at Middleport on Monday last, and nominated the following ticket: For Circuit Clerk, Thomas Vennum; Sheriff, Luther T. Clark. This is an excellent ticket, and will be elected with scarcely a show of opposition.

GREENE COUNTY.—The Republican meeting held at Carrollton on Saturday last (the first Republican meeting ever held in Greene county) was one of the largest gatherings that have taken place in the State since the Chicago Convention. Considering that the county gave Fremont only 245 votes out of 2,529 votes cast in 1856, it may be considered one of the most gratifying displays in political annals. The crowd numbered not less than 5,000. A procession was formed which reached more than a mile in length. During the afternoon splendid speeches were made by Hon. Richard Yates and John A. Chestnut, and in the evening by Hon. J. C. Conkling and James S. Lee. Our friends in Greene claim that they will give a majority for Lincoln and Hamlin, notwithstanding the immense odds in 1856.

SANGAMON COUNTY.—Dr. Alex. Shields, for the last twenty years a leading Democrat in Sangamon county, addressed a large Republican meeting, in an effective manner, at Cotton Hill, on Saturday last.

PIKE COUNTY.—We have a letter from a correspondent at Griggsville, stating that the attempt of the Douglasites to get up a demonstration was a failure, while the Nationals are elated and confident that Breckinridge and Lane will crush the "Little Giant." They intend to raise a National pole of fabulous height. The friends of "Old Abe" are sure of success. "Just send us some good speakers into the Vth Congressional District, and we will give the Republican nominees rousing majorities."

BELOIT, (WIS.,) June 26th.—A telegram appeared in the Chicago Times (from this city) of Monday morning headed "One Hundred Guns and Torchlight Procession." There were some guns fired—perhaps 30 or 40. Something of a crowd gathered—mostly Irish—and the enthusiasm was entirely after the manner of that persuasion. The torchlight procession contrasted very favorably with the rest of the "demonstration." It embraced over one hundred in number, composed mainly of our business and professional men, sober and intelligent—presenting an admirable appearance. But it was composed of Wide Awakes in full uniform, and to a man for LINCOLN and HAMLIN. The Buchanan men managed the cannon. There was no other procession here. The telegram was a deliberate swindle.

OHIO.—The following speaks encouragingly of Ohio. We trust the prediction of our friend in regard to the third Congressional district may prove prophetic. A more unmitigated scamp never entered the Hall of Representatives than this C. L. Vallandingham:

DAYTON (Ohio), June 25, 1860.—I do not wish to say anything in disparagement of sister States, yet there is no State in the Union where the Republican camp fires are burning so brightly as in the Buckeye State, and in no portion of the State where they are burning more brightly than in the third Congressional district. You will remember this is the district misrepresented by the notorious "Valandigham," the man who won for himself the during the present Congress the reputation of being the "meanest man in Congress." The Republicans here are "wide-awake," and will relieve him from any further misrepresenting this constituency and turning his back upon them by again saying in Congress that his sympathies were with the slaveholders. We will send him to join his Southern masters, where he properly belongs. We had a large and enthusiastic meeting on Saturday evening. Gov. Chase, who is giving Lincoln an earnest support, addressed the assembled multitude. He spoke for about two hours in his clear, able and convincing manner—often eliciting the warmest applause. Gov. Chase closed his speech by an eloquent appeal to the Republicans, exhorting them to do their whole duty in the coming struggle, reminding them that the triumph of our principles was surely drawing nigh, and that the great Democratic party now only lived in history; that "Honest Old Abe" would soon be called upon to administer the government. He here spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Lincoln. "We have not nominated him to please the Democracy. We have nominated him because he is honest, faithful and capable, and if there ever was a time when honesty was a necessity in a candidate for the Presidency it was at this very time."

Three vociferous cheers were given for Gov. Chase, and three for "Old Abe," and the meeting adjourned. Ohio will do her whole duty next November. G.

MINNESOTA.—The relative strength of the two factions in Minnesota, may be gathered from the following letter from a correspondent at Red Wing:

RED WING, Min., June 27.—Of course you will feel some interest as to the way Minnesota Democrats receive the nomination of Breckinridge and Lane. Though most of our Democratic journals and publications are with Douglas, it is a question of doubt where stand the majority of Democratic votes. The news of his nomination was received were with coolness. There was no public demonstration. In the middle of the night succeeding the reception of the intelligence, there was a noise heard in town, as of the beating together of tin pans, etc., and I have been told it was an expression of joy from the friends of Douglas. If so, they were wise in choosing an hour when everybody was in bed, and when no body could see their strength. Far different was the greeting given to Breckinridge and Lane. No sooner was the news announced than preparations were made for a Democratic glorification. A meeting was called, and so general was the attendance, it was found necessary to meet in the public square. Chief Justice Welch, one of the most influential Democrats in the State, presided; and Mr. Meserole, a prominent leader, acted as Secretary. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed, and it was unanimously resolved, that thirty-three guns be immediately discharged in honor of Breckinridge and Lane. This was done without delay, and as each discharge pealed forth, the booming noise was nearly drowned in the deafening cheers of the Red Wing Democracy. SPECTATOR.

NEW YORK.—The Ontario Repository, Frank Grangier's old organ at Canandaigua, which supported Fillmore since 1856, and has since maintained a position in opposition to Republican nominations, has declared for Lincoln and Hamlin.

OHIO.—A Breckinridge and Lane paper is to be started at Dayton. The Empire of that city, like the Cincinnati Enquirer, having left the Democratic party and gone over to Douglas.

The Artesian well in Columbus, Ohio, has be[illegible] a great bore [illegible] twenty-four hundred and seventy-three feet deep, the augur still working in [illegible].

REPUBLICAN RALLY IN PHILADELPHIA.

20,000 MEN IN COUNCIL.

Great Torchlight Procession—Reception of the Republican Congressmen.

PHILADELPHIA, June 26, 1860.

An immense torchlight procession, with music, greeted the return of Messrs. Covode, Burlingame, Grow, Blair and Morris, and a grand entertainment was given them by Henry C. Carey, Esq. The meeting at the Square was so large that there was speaking from four stands. There was great enthusiasm when the speakers introduced the names of the Chicago nominees.

The recent Democratic nominations at Baltimore rendered the meeting a fit occasion for the Republicans to show their strength in view of the November contest.

Before twilight crowds of citizens collected around the stands on Broad street, and the music of the various delegations hurrying to the places of rendezvous could be heard in every section of the city. As twilight deepened into dusk, the light of numberless lanterns could be seen dancing in long array up the various avenues, and devices in quaint and pithy characters shone from hundreds of transparencies. The prominent streets were crowded with men hurrying toward Broad and Market streets; and at half-past eight o'clock a scene of bewildering beauty flashed upon the eye as it rounded any of the corners commanding a view of Penn Square.

One of the processions, when it reached the Continental, was two miles long. The first speaker was Covode, who attempted in vain to make himself heard by the vast crowd assembled around him. The multitude was soon divided, and two other stands were erected, at which eloquent speeches were made by Howard of Detroit, Bingham of Ohio, Kellog of Michigan, Allen and Burlingame of Massachusetts, Grow of Pennsylvania, McKean of New York, Henry D. Moore and Judge Kelly of Philadelphia, and McKnight of Pittsburgh.

Want of space forbids a synopsis of their remarks. Burlingame spoke two hours, and was continually cheered. He called the Senate a slaughter-house of the people's rights, that must be cleansed and reformed.

Altogether the rally was an unprecedented success, justly inspiring our friends in Pennsylvania with the belief that Philadelphia is to be revolutionized, and the whole State "redeemed, regenerated and disenthralled."

THE GREAT EASTERN.

As our readers may have forgotten the dimensions of the Great Eastern, we publish the following from the World of Wednesday:

The iron steamship Great Eastern, now commanded by Capt. John Vinehall, was built at Millwall, on the banks of the river Thames, England, from designs planned by the late Mr. Brunel. The work of construction was carried on by Messrs. Treadwell of Gloucester, under the superintendence of Mr. Scott Russell. She is the largest vessel afloat, her hull measuring about seven hundred feet in length, sixty feet in height, and making a burden of twenty-three thousand tons. Thirty thousand iron plates have been used in her construction, each plate weighing the third part of a ton, and requiring one hundred rivets to make it fast to its fellows.

She has ten steam boilers, which are heated by one hundred furnaces. The cylinder of every engine in the Great Eastern is six feet in diameter and weighs five times as much as the great bell of St. Paul's Church, London. Her screw propeller is twenty-four feet in diameter, and the diameter of each of her paddle wheels is fifty-six feet, an area considerably more extensive than that of Astley's circus. The principal suit of saloons in the Great Eastern is four hundred feet long, and a promenade round her deck affords a walk more than a quarter of an English mile in extent.

The latest survey of the ship gives a register-ed measurement of eighteen thousand nine hundred and fifteen tons.

This monster ship combines steam power in both shapes—screw and paddle—with sailing power. To furnish the former she carries eleven thousand tons of coal, and when driven by the wind, with all sail set, she will spread out six thousand five hundred yards of canvas.

She has six masts and two of her "boats" are screw steam propellers, each sixty feet long, both being attached to her guards aft.

A long longitudinal sectional view of the ship shows: aft the aperture for the screw, with cast-iron strengthening frame supporting the screw shaft. Above are the capstans, worked by a shaft from the auxiliary engines. Aft of the capstans are the cast-iron bits for the chain cable. Then comes the screw shaft and its pedestals, and auxiliary engines for working capstans and for turning screw-shaft at a moderate velocity, should it be necessary to disconnect the screw engines from the shaft if the vessel is under canvas. Above this are cargo-room, ship's store, &c., and next the screw-engines of Messrs. Watt & Co; above which are cabins and berths for engineers.

Again, we find six pairs of boilers for screw-engines, with the steam-pipes leading thereto; above and on either side are the coal-bunkers, between each set of boilers; above are some of the principal saloons, with berths on each side of ship; and on deck is the captain's cabin. Near this are the paddle engines, and above are the engineers' and stokers' berths, &c.

Then we see auxiliary engines and boilers for working capstans forward, with a shaft and gear to work the capstans at any required velocity. These engines are also for pumping water from double sides of the vessel when necessary. Above is the gas-work.

There are four pairs of boilers, belonging to the saddle-engines, of Scott Russell & Co., and their steam-pipes leading thereto. Above and around are coal-bunkers. On the second deck, and in front of the tunnels, is the ladies' cabin; and from that to the paddle engine room is the drawing room on deck, under which are some of the principal saloons and berths on the other side.

The steamer will be lighted with gas made on board, and as she traverses the Atlantic on this, her first ocean voyage, the electric light will flicker from her masthead, signalizing her course and approach to her fellow travelers of all dimensions.

Her interior decoration and ornamentation are of a very magnificent and costly description; but as she will carry only about three hundred passengers, a great majority of her saloons and state-rooms will not be put in use, and we consequently defer a minute notice of their appearance until after her arrival.

As a conclusion to this general rough description of the size of the Great Eastern we may state that she has capacity to accommodate four thousand passengers, eight hundred of them being "first class," and if employed as a troop ship she could, in a case of grave emergency, carry ten thousand soldiers.

Her speed, when in good sailing trim, is computed at fifteen knots, or eighteen miles, an hour, a rate which would take her to India from Liverpool, by the Cape of Good Hope, and to Australia, in little more than a month's time.

EXACT SIZE OF THE SHIP.

We append, as a matter of much interest, and for purposes of future reference, a condensed table of the exact measurement, size and capacity of the Great Eastern. The principal dimensions of the ship, her capacity and power, are as follows:

THE LARGEST VESSELS AFLOAT—THEIR LENGTH AND TONNAGE.

In the subjoined table, we give a statement of the name, carpenter's length, and measurement tonnage of the largest vessels built, either in the United States or England, before the Great Eastern. Her dimensions are stated at the foot. Our readers will see that in consequence of the demands of commerce—and somewhat in a spirit of national rivalry—the leading naval constructors have gone on from year to year extending the proportions of their designs until they have attained, in realization, the enormous magnitude of our anxiously expected vessel. A fair approximate idea of the size of the Great Eastern may be formed by a comparison of the figures annexed:

The City of Milwaukee and her Creditors.

An adjourned meeting of the holders of the defaulted bonds of the City of Milwaukee was held last evening at the Brevoort House. Twenty gentlemen representing a large portion of the $1,600,000, loaned by the city to the various Wisconsin railroads, were present, Mr. Watts Sherman in the chair.

Mr. Charles Moran, in behalf of the committee appointed to investigate the condition of the whole matter, reported that no committee meeting had been held, and strongly advocated an immediate resort to legal measures, unless Milwaukee should bestir herself and show some desire to meet her obligations.

Mr. Sherman gave the results of several interviews which Mr. Simeon Draper has had with the Municipality of that city, and read a resolution of her Common Council, appointing a committee of conference. He said that the question was not one of legal right entirely. If a judgment were obtained in full, and without the usual "law's delay," it was doubtful whether the actual poverty of Milwaukee would not render it impossible of collection.

A long discussion ensued as to the best means to be taken. Finally a resolution passed, appointing a committee of five, with power to call upon the authorities of Milwaukee to propose some manner of negotiating for the settlement of their municipal debt, to assert and maintain the rights of the bondholders, and in default of negotiations being successfully carried on, to commence a lawsuit against the city, if such a course should be deemed by them best for the interests of the associated creditors; said Committee to report to their constituents from time to time.

The following gentlemen were named and chosen: Charles Moran, Simeon Draper, O. Van Hoffman, and —— Schall, of this city; Charles P. Williams, of Stonington, Conn. and the Chair ex-officio. After which the meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Committee. —N. Y. Tribune, 28th.

CAMPAIGN OF 1860.

The Five Platforms.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM ADOPTED AT CHICAGO, MAY 18, 1860.

THE CANDIDATES.

For President—ABRAHAM LINCOLN, of Illinois.
For Vice President—HANNIBAL HAMLIN, of Maine.

THE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That we, the delegated representatives of the Republican electors of the United States, in Convention assembled, in the discharge of the duty we owe to our constituents and our country, unite in the following declarations:

1. That the history of the nation during the last four years, has fully established the propriety and necessity of the organization and perpetuation of the Republican party; and that the causes which called it into existence are permanent in their nature, and now, more than ever before, demand its peaceful and constitutional triumph.

2. That the maintenance of the principles promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and embodied in the federal constitution—"That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; that to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed"—are essential to the preservation of our republican institutions; and that the federal constitution, the rights of the States, and the Union of the States, must and shall be preserved.

3. That to the Union of the States this nation owes its unprecedented increase in population, its surprising development of material resources, its rapid augmentation of wealth, its happiness at home and its honor abroad; and we hold in abhorrence all schemes for disunion, come from whatever source they may; and we congratulate the country that no Republican member of Congress has uttered or countenanced the threats of disunion so often made by Democratic members, without rebuke and with applause from their political associates; and we denounce those threats of disunion, in case of a popular overthrow of their ascendency, as denying the vital principles of a free government, and as an avowal of contemplated treason, which it is the imperative duty of an indignant people sternly to rebuke and forever silence.

4. That the maintenance inviolate of the rights of the States, and especially the right of each State to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depend, and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed force of the soil of any State or Territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes.

5. That the present Democratic administration has far exceeded our worst apprehensions in its measureless subserviency to the exactions of a sectional interest, as especially evinced in its desperate exertions to force the infamous Lecompton Constitution upon the protesting people of Kansas; in construing the personal relation between master and servant to involve an unqualified property in persons; in its attempted enforcement everywhere, on land and sea, through the intervention of Congress and of the federal courts, of the extreme pretensions of a purely local interest, and in its general and unvarying abuse of the power entrusted to it by a confiding people.

6. That the people justly view with alarm the reckless extravagance which pervades every department of the federal government, that a return to rigid economy and accountability is indispensable to arrest the systematic plunder of the public treasury by favored partisans, while the recent startling developments of frauds and corruptions at the federal metropolis show that an entire change of administration is imperatively demanded.

7. That the new dogma that the Constitution, of its own force, carries slavery into any or all of the Territories of the United States, is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency, and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country.

8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; that as our republican fathers, when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory, ordained that "no person should be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law;" it becomes our duty by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the Constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of Congress, of a Territorial Legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any Territory of the United States.

9. That we brand the recent re-opening of the African slave trade, under the cover of our national flag, aided by perversions of judicial power, as a crime against humanity and a burning shame to our country and age; and we call upon Congress to take prompt and efficient measures for the total and final suppression of that execrable traffic.

10. That in the recent vetoes, by their federal Governors, of the acts of the Legislatures of Kansas and Nebraska, prohibiting slavery in those Territories, we find a practical illustration of the boasted Democratic principle of non-intervention and popular sovereignty, embodied in the Kansas-Nebraska bill, and a demonstration of the deception and fraud involved therein.

11. That Kansas should, of right, be immediately admitted as a State under the Constitution recently formed and adopted by her people, and accepted by the House of Representatives.

12. That, while providing revenue for the support of the General Government by duties upon imports, sound policy requires the adjustment of those imports as to encourage the development of the whole country; and we commend that policy of national exchanges which secures to the working men liberal wages, to agriculture renumerating prices, to mechanics and manufacturers an adequate reward for their skill, labor and enterprise, and to the nation commercial prosperity and independence.

13. That we protest against any sale or alienation to others of the public lands held by actual settlers, and against any view of the free homestead policy which regards the settlers as paupers or suppliants for public bounty; and we demand the passage by Congress of the complete and satisfactory homestead measure which has already passed the House.

14. That the Republican party is opposed to any change in our naturalization laws, or any State legislation by which the rights of citizenship hitherto accorded to immigrants from foreign lands shall be abridged or impaired; and in favor of giving a full and efficient protection to the rights of all classes of citizens, whether native or naturalized, both at home and abroad.

15. That the appropriations by Congress for river and harbor improvements of a national character, required for the accommodation and security of an existing commerce, are authorized by the Constitution, and justified by the obligation of government to protect the lives and property of its citizens.

16. That a railroad to the Pacific ocean is imperatively demanded by the interest of the whole country; that the Federal Government ought to render immediate and efficient aid in its construction; and that, as preliminary thereto, a daily overland mail should be promptly established.

17. Finally, having thus set forth our distinctive principles and views, we invite the cooperation of all citizens, however differing on other questions, who substantially agree with us in their affirmance and support.

THE DOUGLAS FACTION OF THE SHAM DEMOCRACY.

THE CANDIDATES.

For President—Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois.
For Vice-President—Herschel V. Johnson of Georgia.

THE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That we, the Democracy of the Union, in Convention assembled, hereby declare our affirmation of the resolutions unanimously adopted and declared as a platform of principles by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati in the year 1856, believing that Democratic principles are unchangable in their nature when applied to the same subject matter, and we recommend as our only further resolutions the following:

That inasmuch as differences of opinion exist in the Democratic party as to the nature and extent of the powers of a Territorial Legislature, and as to the powers and duties of Congress, under the Constitution of the United States, over the institution of slavery within the Territories;

Resolved, That the Democratic party will abide by the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States over the institution of slavery within the Territories.

Resolved, That it is the duty of the United States to afford ample and complete protection to all its citizens, at home or abroad, and whether native or foreign born.

Resolved, That one of the necessities of the age, in a military, commercial and postal point of view, is speedy communication between the Atlantic and Pacific States, and the Democratic party pledge such constitutional enactment as will insure the construction of a railroad to the Pacific coast at the earliest practicable period.

Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the Island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain.

Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution and revolutionary in their effect.

To the above is added the following resolution adopted at Baltimore for the purpose of gaining 40,000 votes in Louisiana. It is the Slave Code plank:

Resolved, That it is in accordance with the Cincinnati Platform, that during the existence of Territorial Governments the measure of restriction, whatever it may be, imposed by the Federal Constitution on the power of the Territorial Legislature over the subject of the domestic relations, as the same has been or shall hereafter be decided by the Supreme Court of the United States, should be respected by all good citizens, and enforced with promptness and fidelity by every branch of the General Government."

The resolution of the Cincinnati Convention referred to in the first resolution above is in these words:

"Resolved, That we recognize the right of the people of all the Territories, including Kansas and Nebraska, acting through the legally and fairly expressed will of a majority of actual residents, and whenever the number of their inhabitants justifies it to form a Constitution with or without domestic slavery, and be admitted into the Union upon terms of perfect equality with the other States."

THE BRECKINRIDGE FACTION OF THE SHAM DEMOCRACY.

THE CANDIDATES.

For President—John C. Breckinridge, of Ky.
For Vice President—Joseph Lane, of Oregon.

THE PLATFORM.

Resolved, That the platform adopted by the Democratic party at Cincinnati be affirmed, with the following explanatory resolutions:

1. That the government of a Territory organized by an act of Congress is provisional and temporary, and during its existence all citizens of the United States have an equal right to settle with their property in the Territory, without their rights, either of person or property, being destroyed or injured by Congressional or Territorial legislation.

2. That it is the duty of the Federal Government, in all its departments, to protect the rights of persons and property in the Territories, and wherever else its constitutional authority extends.

3. That when the settlers in a Territory having an adequate population to form a State constitution, the right of sovereignty commences, and being consummated by their admission into the Union, they stand on an equality with the people of other States, and a State thus organized ought to be admitted into the Federal Union, whether its Constitution prohibits or recognizes the institution of slavery.

Resolved, That the Democratic party are in favor of the acquisition of the island of Cuba, on such terms as shall be honorable to ourselves and just to Spain, and the earliest practicable moment.

Resolved, That the enactments of State Legislatures to defeat the faithful execution of the Fugitive Slave law are hostile in character, subversive of the Constitution, and revolutionary in their effect.

Resolved, That the Democracy of the United States recognize it as the imperative duty of this government to protect the naturalized citizen in all his rights, whether at home or in foreign lands, to the same extent as its native born citizens.

WHEREAS, One of the greatest necessities of the age, in a political, commercial, postal and military point of view, is a speedy communication between the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the National Democratic party do hereby pledge themselves to use every means in their power to secure the passage of some bill, to the extent of their constitutional authority, by Congress, for the construction of a Pacific Railroad from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, at the earliest practicable moment.

SPEAKER PENNINGTON AT HOME.

Enthusiastic Reception by his Constituents—and Speech of Mr. Pennington.

NEW YORK, June 27th.

Hon. William Pennington, Speaker of the House of Representatives, left Washington yesterday morning, and arrived at his home in Newark, at nine o'clock last evening. A large concourse of people, comprising men of all parties, had collected at the depot awaiting his arrival, and the enthusiastic cheers which greeted his return, testified to the universal popularity which he enjoys among all classes of his fellow-townsmen. The "Wide Awake" battalion of Newark, numbering upwards of 200 men, turned out in a body with torchlights and a band of music, to escort him from the depot to his residence. On the arrival of the cars from Philadelphia, at five minutes past nine o'clock, cannons were fired opposite the depot, bonfires blazed, rockets were shot up, and amid the cheers of several thousand people, Mr. Pennington stepped out of the car and was escorted through the line of the "Wide Awakes" to the head of the procession. After some delay the order was given to move, and the procession started on its way to the residence of Mr. Pennington, on High street, about one and a half miles from the depot. It passed up Market street to Broad, down Broad to Court and up Court to Hoyt, and was greeted all along the route with the cheers of the crowd, displays of rockets, Roman candles and other manifestations of joy. At about ten o'clock the procession arrived at the residence of Mr. Pennington—an old-fashioned wooden mansion, embowered in a forest of trees and with spacious grounds attached.

The procession stopped opposite the house, when Cortlandt Parker, Esq., mounted a block, and addressed Gov. Pennington.

After extending to him a hearty welcome in the name of the assembled of New Jersey, and referring to the peculiar circumstances under which he was elected Speaker, and after referring to the many beneficial acts of legislation passed by the House, but defeated in the Senate, Mr. Parker closed by again welcoming him, on behalf of his fellow-citizens, back to his native city.

Mr. Pennington mounted the block to respond, and was greeted with loud and prolonged cheers. The tumult having subsided, he spoke as follows:

It has been my lot, my friends, to stand before assemblies for the last five months as uproarious as you are, [laughter,] and I am proud to say as your Representative in Congress that I believe I have left them with a good share of their good will. [Cheers.] And I desire to say, because it is due that I should say it, that I have not only received the respect and consideration of my own party, but I believe of all parties in the House. Educated as I have been, among you, I felt it my duty to do justice to all men, and I feel a pride that I have the testimony of the House that I have succeeded. [Cheers.] It was our first duty to elect a Speaker. This might be thought an easy thing, but after two months' trial it was found that we could not concentrate on any man who could get a majority of votes. I knew, thirty days before any election, that there men enough who would vote for me together with the vote that had already been cast in my favor, to elect me; but I did not want the office, and I told my friends to keep quiet, and I threw my vote always, with one exception, for John Sherman of Ohio. [Prolonged cheers.] I am not ashamed of that vote. [Renewed cheers.] I gave it to a good man, an honest man, a true man; and I tell you the history of John Sherman is yet to be written. He has a history yet before him, and one that will be creditable to himself and to his country. Well, it was all right, I suppose, to fall back at last on New Jersey; they had to do it in the Revolutionary War. A member from Virginia rose and said that, if they would concentrate on me, he would be satisfied. I did not thank him for that, for I did not want it. [Laughter and applause.] But it was found that the North would lose the Speaker unless some move should be made quickly. We had a caucus, and at that caucus Mr. Stevens of Pennsylvania arose and said, "I nominate Gov. Pennington, of New Jersey." Some one said, "Why, Stevens, I thought you were going to vote for Sherman until the crack of doom." "I was," replied Stevens, "and last night I heard the crack." [Great laughter and cheers.] And so it came to pass that I was elected. When I came into office I placed at the head of the chief Committee John Sherman, who had been defeated for my place. [Applause.] I felt I was bound to do this in honor; and I can say as a member from Virginia said to me, that no man ever filled that post equal to John Sherman. Well, we went on and fought the battle through the session. We passed many useful measures but we were met by the Senate opposing us at every step. But, my friends, the people are getting their eyes open. I have travelled all day, my friends, and am weary, and I can only say in conclusion that we are now about to enter upon a great Presidential contest, and I wish to say to you that I go in heart and soul for Abraham Lincoln. [Prolonged cheering.] He is an honest and a capable man. Mr. Douglas, his competitor, who has contended with the ablest men in the Senate, has said that he never met an abler antagonist than Mr. Lincoln. [Cheers.] Allow me, in conclusion, my friends, to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this kind and cordial welcome. I am unable to express my gratitude for the kindness shown me here to-night by so many of my fellow-citizens. I can only say again I thank you, and bid you good night.

Three cheers were here given for Gov. Pennington, during which he entered his residence, and the crowd soon after dispersed.

From Nebraska.

[Correspondence of the Missouri Republican.]

ST. JOHN, Dakota Co., N. T., June 20, 1860.

The citizens of this county were yesterday startled by the fearful intelligence, received from Mr. Brown, of this county, concerning the massacre of the residents of the town of Niobrarah, by the Brule-Sioux. He states that on Thursday evening, June 14th, the inhabitants of Niobrarah observed a band of Indians approaching the town, crawling upon their hands and feet, for the purpose, it is believed, of setting fire to the houses, and of butchering the inmates. Alarm was immediately given, and a party was formed, amounting to fifteen in all, to go out and meet the Indians, thus hoping to prevent a wholesale slaughter. Upon meeting with the red "skinned" scoundrels, shots were exchanged, and Mr. Westerman, storekeeper at Niobrarah, fell wounded severely, though not mortally, in the face. Two of his associates attempted to carry him to the hotel, but were so closely pursued by the Brule-Sioux that they were obliged to leave him to his fate. The Indians again shot Mr. Westerman, this time mortally, the bullet entering directly between the ribs, penetrating the lung, and making its exit at the back portion of the lung, below the shoulder blade. Mr. Westerman was finally taken to the hotel, where he died in about three hours. Mr. Dodson, keeper of the hotel, was also seriously wounded.

Mr. Smith, blacksmith of the Ponca Reservation, was captured by the Indians, but in crossing him over the "Running Water," he by great dexterity made his escape to a deep ravine close at hand, where he remained several hours in perfect security, although the Indians in searching for him often trod upon his body. He returned to Niobrarah several hours after his capture and fortunate escape. A young gentleman from the East, supposed to be from Washington, D. C., who is attached to the "Ponca Reserve," shot two of the Indians, and was fortunate enough to secure the scalp of one of the miscreants. It is thought that the settlers between Niobrarah and Fort Randall have been murdered; but this, however, is only surmise. Mr. Brown, my informant, is an intelligent person, and his statement is authenticated by circumstances. He has been living at Niobrarah for some time, and was one of the persons who endeavored to save Mr. Westerman from being shot a second time. Mr. Brown left Niobrarah on Friday morning, and reached here yesterday, having traveled the whole route on foot.

Brethren, Love One Another.

LOOK ON THIS PICTURE.	NOW ON THIS.
His (Breckinridge's) hatred of Douglas must be most intense, that he should be willing, in order to defeat him, to sacrifice himself, disrupt the National Democracy, and to place in the Presidency a Republican. The bolters have detailed him on a forlorn hope, and he accepts the mission.—Cincinnati Enquirer, (Democrat.)	The Rump Convention completed its labors by first driving out from its midst every trustworthy Democrat, and by then nominating that arch rebel, Stephen A. Douglas, for President. Their platform virtually enunciates but one principle, — squatter sovereignty; their hearts throb with but one desire—a burning lust after office; their souls are possessed by but one feeling,—a bitter hatred of the Democratic party, and its chosen exponents.—St. Louis Bulletin, (Democrat.)

Affairs in Ireland.

[Correspondence of N. Y. Courier and Enquirer.]

DUBLIN, June 12.

The movement that has so suddenly and so widely stirred this country, for raising an army for the Pope and pay for the army—a movement that has alarmed the Government, lest it should "shake the isle from its propriety"—seems to call for a sketch of its origin, history and present state.

When the Legations declared themselves no longer subject to the Pope, and the "Catholic Powers" refused to compel their return to obedience, the Legate, Dr. Cullen, ordered a "Tribute" to supply the deficiency in the Exchequer. "The Pastoral," read in all the churches, supplemented by the comments of the clergy, produced a deep and universal sympathy, which told in the tangible shape of very large contributions. There were hundreds and fifties from the wealthy; but the poor, who universally contribute, swelled the amount to its unexpected height. The Diocese of Dublin alone raised about £20,000.

The way was thus prepared for the enthusiasm that followed; and when it was intimated that the Pope wanted men, as well as money, and that "he would rather have one Irishman than ten of any other nation"—so high is the opinion he entertains of their value and fidelity—candidates for the honor and glory of serving in the "Army of the Faith," offered in vast numbers, and of every class. The counters and desks of the metropolis supplied numbers; the other principal towns followed the example; for "The Young Men's Societies" had filled them with ardor, to which it was not hard to give a martial direction. The remote rural districts furnished their quota; and while police and constabulary resigned the office of conservators of the peace at home, to become warriors abroad, and disbanded militia men again forsook the spade for the musket, and would be volunteers, determined to fight in Italy for that religion that make them objects of suspicion in Ireland—farm laborers and mechanics eagerly desired to be enrolled in "The Pope's Own."

The statement too that England was a prime mover in fostering the revolutionary spirit that is so wide spread in Italy—that has laid Sardinia under excommunication, is threatening the altar and the throne in Italy, and is the source of the Pope's troubles—aroused our "Phoenix Club" men, Young Irelanders, and Ribbonmen, who, unable to revolutionize Ireland in favor of the Pope, are anxious to keep Italy from being revolutionized against him. The spirit that animates all these classes is compared by the Ultramontane papers to that which animated the Crusaders of former days; and in one respect, at least, it is not dissimilar. The fathers and mothers, the wives and children, the friends and sweethearts that accompany them, instead of tears of regret, follow them with shouts of joy.

It is in vain that the Government publish proclamations of caution, and threaten with the penalties provided by law against foreign enlistment. The acts of the British Parliament are laughed at, equally with that which made it penal for Roman Catholic prelates to take territorial titles for their Sees. The organization is complete. They assemble to hear mass, and receive the benediction; are accompanied to the place of departure by a priest, who pays the fare, provides the outfit, and supplies all requisites till the landing at Ancona, where Monsignor Howard—late a British officer, now a dignified ecclesiastic—gives them the Pope's benediction, being specially commissioned for that purpose, and they are consigned to the care of Dr. McLoughlin, the Chaplain, a Limerick man of the Order of St. Francis.

A gentleman of this city, who has made it his business to watch the movement, says that the priests are busy, in the Smithfield Market, with the young men who come in from the neighboring villages and country districts; that when enrolled, they are sent to the Drumcondra Missionary College, where, in grounds enclosed by a high wall, they are drilled by a Sergeant before departing; that hundreds of young men from the "Monster Houses," are undergoing nightly drilling for the same purpose; and that—without taking into account those from America—Ireland, with her sons from Scotland and England, has already about ten thousand. I know that, while I write, three servants have gone from this street.

The number required is said to be twenty thousand. Of the design for which the army is raised, conjecture is busy. It may be to recover the revolted Legations, or to aid the King of Naples to quell revolution in Southern Italy, or to serve as a standing army instead of the Swiss and French. And there are those who guess that, if opportunity offered, these soldiers might become "the liberators" of Ireland.

ERIGENA.

Horrible State of Affairs on the Frontier.

A correspondent of the Galveston (Texas) News, writing from Weatherfield, Texas, on the 5th, says:

I have just returned from Belknap and Jacksboro. Young county may be considered in a desperate condition. Anarchy almost daily exhibits its unhappy rule there. Four men were killed in that vicinity during Court week: Collins, Bivins, Adams and Cornett. The case grew out of the Reserve Indian question, and the "O. L. M." letter, as I understand. Cornett, who killed Neighbors, and whose wife was captured by the Indians and carried away, was charged with an assault on Dennis Murphy with intent to kill. A writ was issued and placed in the hands of an officer, and, in attempting to arrest him, Cornett was shot by the officer's posse as he resisted the execution of the writ. The other men were killed by persons unknown. It is said that some of the Rangers of Col. Johnson's command were engaged in the killing of Bivins, Adams and Collins.

One Anderson was killed by the Sheriff and posse of Young county a short time before Court. His brothers and friends armed, and sought a chance at the Sheriff up to court holding, when the Sheriff resigned his office. It is said there is not another man in the county who will accept the office.

Mr. Newhouse was wounded not long since by the Indians—a party of twelve—and died in a few days afterwards. He states that the party were of the Upper Reserve; he knew them well; had lived near them and traded with them and could not have been mistaken. A Mexican was with him at the time of the attack, who was killed upon the spot.

☞ Health and Pure Blood are Inseparable.—Recollect that all sickness arises from impurity of the blood, and that Judson's Mountain Herb will so surely find out and cleanse these impurities from the system, that disease cannot exist. So simple and innocent are the herbs and plants that compose them, that it is not necessary to have them sugar coated in order that the stomach can bear them. In most cases, Pills are sugar coated because the materials of which they are made are so griping and malignant that otherwise a delicate stomach could not bear them. [illegible] will not only cure by removing the cause, but will build up and restore the broken constitution. There are many who have so trifled with their constitutions that they think medicine cannot help them; let not even these despair; incredulity and scepticism is overthrown by a mass of testimony which is truly irresistible. At first the virtues ascribed to these MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS were deemed fabulous. The public has been so often deceived that they would not believe the simple truths advanced by their discover. Yet facts undeniable, attested by witnesses of the highest character and respectability, have proved, and are proving each day, the virtues of this "mighty healer." They mark by their miraculous efficacy and power a new era in medicine. Sold by all medicine dealers. je15-1m

☞ Soothing and Bracing.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which the sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed (as is the case where ordinary tonics are administered,) by any unpleasant reaction. je15 d&w1w

THE GREATEST WONDER OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY.
Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative.
Says the St. Louis, Mo., Democrat: Below we publish a letter to Dr. Wood, of this city, from a gentleman in Maine, which speaks glowingly of the superior merits of his hair tonic. Such evidence must have its effect, when coming from a reliable source. If certificates are guarantees of truth, the Dr. needs no encomiums, nor useless puffery from the press:
BATH, MAINE, Jan. 20, 1858.
Professor O. J. Wood & Co.—Gentlemen: Having my attention called a few months since to the highly beneficial effects of your hair restorative, I was induced to make application of it upon my own hair, which had become quite grey, probably one-third white; my whiskers were of the same character. Some three months since I procured a bottle of your hair restorative, and used it. I soon found it was proving what I had wished. I used it about twice a week. I have since procured another bottle, of which I have used some. I can now certify to the world that the grey or white hair has totally disappeared, both on my head and face, and my hair has resumed its natural color, and I believe more soft and glossy than it has been before for twenty-five years. I am now sixty years old; my good wife at the age of fifty-two years, has used it with the same effect.
The above notice I deem due to you for your valuable discovery. I am assured that whoever will rightly use, as per directions, will not have occasion to contradict my statement. I am a citizen of this city and a resident here for the last fifteen years, and am known to nearly every one here and adjoining towns. Any use you may make of the above, with my name attached, is at your service, as I wish to preserve the beauties of nature in others as well as myself. I am truly yours A. C. RAYMOND.

I have used no other article with anything like the same pleasure and profit. Yours truly, J. K. BRAGG.

☞ Health and Pure Blood are Inseparable.—Recollect that all sickness arises from impurities of the blood, and that Judson's Mountain Herb will so readily find out and cleanse these impurities from the system, that disease cannot exist. So simple and innocent are the herbs and plants that compose them, that it is not necessary to have them sugar coated in order that the stomach may bear them. In most cases, Pills are sugar coated because the materials of which they are made are so griping and malignant that otherwise a delicate stomach could not bear them. [illegible] will cure disease as it is, but will not only cure by removing the cause, but will build up and restore the broken constitution. There are many who have so trifled with their constitutions that they think medicine cannot help them; let not even these despair; incredulity and scepticism is overthrown by a mass of testimony which is truly irresistible. At first the virtues ascribed to these MOUNTAIN HERB PILLS were deemed fabulous. The public has been so often deceived that they could not believe the simple truths advanced by their discover. Yet facts uncontestable, attested by witnesses of the highest character and respectability, have proved, and are proving each day, the virtues of this "mighty healer." They mark by their miraculous efficacy and power a new era in medicine. Sold by all medicine dealers. je15-1m

☞ Soothing and Bracing.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver complaint, and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed (as is the case where ordinary tonics are administered,) by any unpleasant reaction. je15 d&w1w

A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. For LUNG COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, they are an invaluable Remedy; and are a certain preventive of CHILLS and FEVERS.

☞ Morals, vs. Brandreth's Pills.—Headache's are nature's warnings, and have their origin in imperfect digestion, produces gasses which ascend to the head, causing expansion of the covering of the brain, and varying in intensity according to the habits of the individual. One or two brisk doses of Brandreth's Pills will cure; and when they are swallowed all danger of apoplexy is passed. The pain and dizziness will vanish after the first sleep. Do not let any time be lost. The consequences of irregularities are thus cured, and the body and mind are better able thereafter to withstand temptations. Brandreth's Pills will yet be appreciated by moralists.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK AT BLOOMINGTON.

Examinations at the Normal School.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

BLOOMINGTON, June 28, 1860.

The day has been one of exceeding interest to the numerous friends of education gathered at Bloomington on this the third anniversary of the State Normal School. In my last letter I gave a brief history of the enterprise from its inception, to the present time. To write fully the history of the successive stages of its progress through all the intermediate stages and phases, first a mere purpose in the minds of a few zealous friends of popular education; next in a bill passed the Legislature then as generously welcomed by this noble little city; and so on, step by step, until from being merely in the future, the State Normal School of Illinois has come to be a living, breathing actuality, with a splendid building, the finest ever erected for such a purpose in the United States. Such a history, could it be written, would be a record of a stern and protracted struggle with mountain difficulties and obstacles, and an overcoming of all, by the force of dauntless zeal and indefatigable will.

It has been done. From being a mere architects plan, a coveted castle in the air, the splendid building which shall receive in my next letter the detailed description it deserves, stands completed, and is to be to-morrow occupied for the first time, on an occasion worthily made a gala day and festive occasion by the citizens of Bloomington.

But an edifice, however costly, is worth nothing if it lack a soul. The casket, after all, is secondary to the tenant. I shall write of the building anon. Meanwhile, What of the State Normal School? is it worthy of the structure it is to occupy?

A large audience have all this day been preparing to answer this question, in so far as the careful and protracted annual examinations today closed could indicate the same.

On the 23d day of June, 1857, as already stated, the State Normal School went into operation in this city, leasing for the purpose the upper stories of Meyor's block, giving them a large upper hall, the same, by the way, that was occupied by the State Republican Convention in 1856. On the second floor are six smaller apartments, used as model school room, recitation rooms, &c., &c.

Charles E. Hovey has been from the first at the head of the management of the school, associated with whom at the present time are Ira Moore, Professor of Mathematics, Edwin C. Hewett, Professor of Geography and Natural History, Lewis H. Potter, Professor of Languages, C. M. Cady, Professor of Music, and Miss Mary M. Brooks, Teacher of the Model School.

Many disadvantages have been experienced by the school and instructors by cramped and in many respects unsuitable accommodations, and by the demand implied and fastened upon its supervisory management to keep moving forward the coveted and indispensable project, now accomplished, of a suitable building.

The teachers, Mr Hovey most especially, may be almost said to have toiled with building implements in one hand and the text book in the other, and carried the constantly wedded cares of securing the desired end of intellectual training and qualification for the teachers profession among the students, and of providing during a season of pecuniary embarrassment the material aid for the progress of the structure. Both have been done, and well. I shall describe the one in connection with the first exercises to take place within its halls to-morrow. Yesterday showed the School to be worthy of their new building.

THE NORMAL SCHOLARS.

The qualifications for admission to the State Normal School by the provisions of the 7th section of the act establishing the same are as follows:

1. To be, if males, not less than 17, and if females, not less than 16 years of age.
2. To produce a certificate of good moral character, signed by some responsible person.
3. To sign a declaration of their intention to devote themselves to school teaching in this State.
4. To pass a satisfactory examination, before the proper officers, in Reading, Spelling, Writing, Arithmetic, Geography, and the elements of English Grammar.

Each county and each representative district in the State is entitled to gratuitous instruction for one pupil, for the selection and appointment of which special provision is made.

In Majors' Hall yesterday about one hundred students of both sexes were thus gathered, of whom eleven, the first graduating class, are to receive diplomas to-morrow. Gathered from throughout the borders of our State, their appearance, and intelligence would do credit to any section of the State, and from first appearances, to such visitors as were for the first time there present, it was manifest that the welfare of the Institution is in good hands in the important respect of class and character of its students. Nor were first impressions defeated by the events of the day.

I was glad to see among the spectators on the platform, his Excellency, Gov. Wood, Hon. Jesse K. Dubois, the entire State Board of Education, Capt. J. N. Brown, Lewis Ellsworth and a large number of well-known and prominent citizens of our State. It furnishes a pleasing and significant token of the fast hold the cause of popular education has taken on the hearts of our people when such, as many of those present turn aside from important duties of State and private life, for a day among students.

The exercises were opened at 9 A. M., by devotional exercises, conducted by Mr. Hovey the Principal. These exercises were brief, beautifully simple and impressive, and worthy of introduction in all our Schools.

A chapter of the New Testament was first intoned after the manner of the Church service, thee Principal, and the entire school in concert reading alternate verses. Then followed the brief, unsectarian, yet purely religious exercise of the Lord's Prayer repeated in concert, every head bowed throughout the same.

The class in Virgil, consisting of some ten or twelve students were then called out and exercised under Prof. Potter, in selections taken at random from the first two books of the Æneid. This was a thorough and generally a commendable exhibition. The students were made in turn to assume the teacher's post and question one another. No chance was afforded for collusion, and for benefit from any "cramming" process, and there seemed to be need of none.

An hour thus past was succeeded by a short recess, after the wise Normal School regulation of only fifty minutes confinement at a time instead of ninety, the rule when we pressed the school form as a pupil. A large class in mathematics were then submitted to a very thorough drill by Prof. Moore, the students manifesting the results of careful training to the end of quickness and precision of calculation.

Then followed a brief recess, after which a class was called out for examination in Physical Geography, from the nature of the pursuit, and the evident zest with which the students had pursued it, one of the most interesting exercises of the day.

Prof. C. M. Cady, of Root & Cady of your city, in a way both business and professional identified prominently with musical culture in this State, during the forenoon exercises twice led the entire school in well executed singing. This branch of instruction is not a mere form, but the students of both sexes are diligently and carefully trained to sing, and to teach in singing. Vocal music should be carried into the schools and become a regular part of the exercises, and thus is eminently the practice and precept of the State Normal School.

The intermission was one hour and a half, and the hall was filled again at half past one in the afternoon, and exercises in Botany, Ancient History and Literature filled up the afternoon. But of these I can make no extended separate mention. The last named is a branch of study of value and interest, as giving the student some familiarity and classification of the world's modern poets, novelists and literateurs of the higher grade.

I had more than once during the day been won from the exercises in the Upper Hall, by the sweet sound of childish voices in perfect unison and tune, rising from the apartment on the second floor occupied as the Model School. There I found, and not for the first time during my visit, about thirty young lads and misses, with their teacher, Miss Brooks, forming altogether, one of the happiest and most united little communities imaginable. Nothing was straight-laced because this was Model School, not one of the little folk was in a straight jacket because this was "examination day," but all moved off, each child appparently as responsive to their teacher's voice and look as organ keys to the touch of a skillful player.

How the little folks read in concert, and sang in concert like a tree full of canaries, and how they mounted huge questions in geography, and went at the maps as at a pastime, and how they at the close of the exercises of the afternoon filed up into the Hall and took their places on the platform,—a bright parterre of happy faces, and how they went through their exercises until old faces among the audience forgot their wrinkles, and frosty pows fairly nodded with delight, tears bedimming more than one set of "eyes unused to weep" through the sweet softening influence of happy childhood; behold is not all this and more fast and indelible in the memories of the lookers on during this anniversary of the Normal School.

Thus prepared by the exhibition of her works in the proficiency of these little ones, the audience were fully in sympathy when little Miss Fanny Graves came forward and in a neat little-faltering but clear address presented to Miss Brooks—who now resigns her charge—a beautiful writing-desk as a gift from her pupils.

This closed the examination of the Normal School, and here must close my letter, leaving the reference to the Society exercises of the evening to be included with to-morrow's report.

Life in Naples.

The correspondent of the London Times under date of June 5th, writes as follows from Naples:

King Bombino asks for counsel and assistance. The former has been offered and rejected with contempt; the latter is now requested to defend him against the consequences of his obstinacy and something worse. If it be granted even in the mildest form, what will it support and perpetuate? Take a walk with me round the city before you answer the question. There are four great forts, all the cannon of which are pointed on the city: the Castle St. Elmo, the Castle of the Carmine, that called the Ovo, and Castello Nuovo. There are monasteries and government buildings surmounted by cannon, and every here and there you see loopholed walls, from which the myrmidons of his Majesty are to fire upon the lieges. In the evening you will see pickets of cavalry in the squares, and policemen and spies are so very numerous that you can scarcely venture to speak to a Neapolitan. Our prisons are full of condemned or uncondemned persons, the latter, perhaps as numerous as the former; and I can speak of personal acquaintances who are now suffering in the fourth year without trial or even examination. Go into any public place, and you would fancy that a great calamity had fallen on the people. They whisper together in groups of two and three. They look over their shoulders, and sometimes pull up in a sentence, if perchance somebody passes. If a doubtful person be present, they speak by inuendo or are silent; every man has his sobriquet, and a letter from one friend to another would be a study for a sphynx. Call on a friend and you are asked "Chi?" If the answer, "Amici!" be recognized, you are immediately admitted, otherwise the question is repeated, and your business asked. You will not get your Neapolitan friend to return your call. The porter, who is generally a spy, may know him, or some of the police may be hanging about, and intimacy with a foreigner is condemnation. Such are some of the pretty lighter dimples on the surface of Neapolitan life. As for the provinces, we know little of them, as all intercourse with them is practically prohibited. In some there are no roads; railroads none.

Passports are with difficulty obtained, and I know those whose health requires a visit to the capital, and who cannot come up. Our colleges are comparatively abandoned, and our learned societies exist but in name; the spirit of ignorance and superstition broods over the country, and the priest and policeman are the sources from which this evil spirit emanates. Of wealth, such as God gives with his all-bountiful hand, there is abundance; of commerce, there is little. In all the branches of public administration there is systematic robbery carried on by the King's friends, and the extraordinary praises occasionally bestowed on an honest man show the rarity of the article. In short, the most cruel and iritating oppression exists in Naples, as a necessary consequence of the principles which are the religion of the Bourbons, and the life of the Neapolitans is but bare animal existence. Can there be intervention to support such a state of things? You will talk of changes, and promises, and oaths; the former may be made, but they will never be carried out, and, as to the latter, they are air.

I write decidedly, and the more so, perhaps, that a poor lady has just left me, the object of her visit being to beg my humble assistance in favor of her husband, who has been in prison four years without trial. Such facts as I am acquainted with are enough to make one bitter. I have been looking with hundreds of others over the walls of the marine barracks, which for several days have been the centre of attraction to the Neapolitans. They have been taken for the accommodation of a portion of the wounded who have arrived from Palermo. Of course, the worst cases have been detained in Sicily, and those whom I saw had their heads bound up, or their arms in slings or their legs in bandages. It was a painful sight, and rendered the more painful by the reflection that the poor fellows had been torn from their families by a rigid conscription, and had been compelled to fight for a cause of which they had no more idea than the mules which are now dragging cannon past my house. There was a dead silence in the crowd, and it is evident that the sights we have witnessed the last week have produced their effect in Naples.

Many hundreds of wounded have arrived, and they continue to come every night. Even the official journal last Saturday night was compelled to confess that the Government had heavy losses to deplore, though it adds, they "were much less than those suffered by the bands." With its usual veracity the journal claims a kind of half victory for the Royalists, tries to throw dust in the eyes of the provincials by talking of the capture of two cannon and three flags. The royal family are, however, beginning to open their eyes to the dangers which threaten their dynasty, and last Thursday held a meeting, at which were present the King and two Queens, the Counts of Trami and the King's brothers, the Counts of Cacerta, Aquilla and Trapani, the King's uncle, Princes Cassaro and Comitini, Filangieri, Carraicosa, and Troja. Report says the Constitution of 1812 has been offered to the Sicilians and positively rejected, the islanders having a far different object in view, which is to disembarrass themselves of a family that has never promised but to deceive, and which has never made any other use of power but to oppress. Every effort will be made now to conciliate the Neapolitans, but I doubt much whether it will be possible, and I am disposed to think that the plan of Garibaldi, who is the expression of the Italian will, embraces the liberation of this country on the same terms as Sicily, and its annexation to Piedmont. I think that the move is false, because I doubt its desirability, and there certainly is a party which will increase for the dualism of Italy, though to the utter exclusion of the Bourbons.

Large Export of Thoroughbred Sheep.

[From the Detroit Advertiser.]

A drove of one thousand thoroughbred Spanish Merino ewes, all of which were collected in Washtenaw and Calhoun Counties in this State, is on the eve of starting by way of the Michigan Central Railroad for Texas. They belong to Hon. Robert L. Rose, of Geneva, N. Y., who has been engaged for some weeks in collecting them with a view to transportation to Texas, where he intends to establish an extensive sheep-raising business. They are all fine animals, and, as a specimen of Michigan stock, are worthy of presentation beside any in America. Mr. Rose brought with him from New York some of the celebrated Rapler stock for mixture with his drove, and succeeded in obtaining at Farmington, Oakland County, the fine French Merino buck Michigan Chief, well known through the medium of the State Fair exhibitions. He was bred by Col. Brewer, of Washtenaw County, and has taken the first premium at the State Fair. His fleece one year furnished thirty-two pounds of wool from the growth of twelve months, and he is justly ranked as the finest buck in the State—a circumstance which makes it a matter of regret that he should be allowed to leave it.

Michigan is rightfully entitled to a first rank in the cultivation of the finer breeds of sheep. Washtenaw, Calhoun, Kalamazoo and Oakland Counties are not excelled by any in the country in the amount and quality of full-bred sheep, and the business is fast increasing. A few years will suffice to place the State in advance of all competitors in this particular line, and in the meantime the enterprise of its citizens is meeting a constant reward.

Steam Engine Cut-offs—Their Fallacy.

[From the New York Commercial Advertiser.]

Some remarks by Mr. Isherwood, in his late work, "Engineering Precedents," on the subject of using steam expressively, and the uselessness of that attachment to steam-engines denominated "cut-offs," led the proprietors of the Metropolitan Flour Mills in Cherry street, to test the facts for themselves. Deeming the results of great practical value, I send them for publication. They have six steam engines, working in pairs, one pair driving seven rams of flour four feet burr stones, another pair driving seven more run, and one pair doing the rest of the work—driving the elevators, coolers, bolts, cleaning, etc. The engines driving the stones use fourteen inches diameter of cylinders and three feet stroke; and the pair doing the other work are fifteen inch cylinder and four feet stroke. The mills having a quantity of wheat of very even quality, they tried a thirty-six hour experiment, with their usual arrangement of the engines, steam at 90 lbs. pressure in the boiler, and cutting off at 1-5 to 1-6 of the stroke, and the amount of work done and the quantity of coal consumed accurately ascertained. One engine was then taken off from each pair, and the cut-off from the other engines, and a thirty-six hour experiment made with the steam following as far as possible the full length of the stroke, and to the surprise of all interested there was found a clean saving of ten per cent. of the coal doing the same work, in favor of the single engine and full stroke over the double engine and cut-off: being a complete practical verification of the views set forth by Mr. Isherwood in the work before mentioned.

The French Army.

The French army at this time is computed to amount, even in time of peace, to the enormous figure of 700,000 men. 100,000 men are summoned to the French banners every year, and their term of service las's seven years. The maintenance of such a mass of troops is a crushing weight for the budget, at the same time that it is a great injury to all the branches of national industry, by depriving them of so many young and vigorous arms; but more or less avowable, political and financial reasons force the Imperial Government to maintain this prodigious establishment, which exhausts the people that pays for it, and which is a perpetual menace to the neighboring nations.

Could Napoleon III. ever reduce the army which he possesses; or could he some day content himself, like the Restoration or Louis Philippe, with 250,000 or 300,000 men? It is not at all probable; and seeing the spirit of his politics, both within and without, it is to be believed, on the contrary, that the 700,000 which he has at present will not suffice him, for he has not hesitated for the last two years to add 40,000 men to the annual levy, which would soon have brought this formidable army to a million of soldiers. For the rest, it is necessary not to be deceived by the false pretences at reduction which from time to time attempt to reassure Europe, and to make it believe in a disarming.

With the strong and flexible organization of the Frency army, nothing is more easy than to send a number of men, for a limited time, to their homes; but they are nevertheless still soldiers, and in less than a week, thanks to the celerity of the railways, they can again join the flag, and form again their regiments. There is only one case when the reduction would be real—namely, the diminution of officers. But the Imperial Government, with the views of which it alone has the secret, far from reducing the number of officers, has incessantly increased it; and this is what it is now doing, in creating three new regiments of artillery. As this measure has caused great and just alarms, the Government has endeavored to palliate the effect thereof by declaring that the number of batteries was diminished in the entire army, and that thus France, far from increasing her armaments, had reduced them. This explanation is perfectly false, for the reason we have just given. The number of batteries is nothing; they can always obtain as many as they wish from well-furnished arsenals, and the artillery harness, as will be remembered have been put into the care of the farmers. What is of importance is the increase in the number of officers, which is very great, in consequence of the formation of the three new regiments. This is what the Imperial Government understands by reduction, and it is condemned never to understand it otherwise. France and Europe must resign themselves thereto during the remainder of the reign of Napoleon III.

MISCELLANEOUS.

—The Express, of this city, suggests that, in view of the position of the Douglas ticket in the Presidential race, the present location of the Democratic Headquarters be called "Democratic Hindquarters."—St. Louis Dem.

—A Breckinridge and Lane electoral ticket will be started in Iowa. Hon. Laurel Summers, of LeClaire, a leading Democrat, is out for Breckinridge and Lane.

—Recently received English papers give details of a remarkable snow storm that occurred all over the North of England on the 28th of May last. The snow fell in many parts of the north of Yorkshire to the depth of six feet. The sheep had generally just been shorn, and the destruction among the flocks was very great. The wind also did much damage to buildings, trees, &c. It is said to have been the heaviest snow storm on record so late as the 28th day of May.

—At a fire in Philadelphia on Monday, two hundred canary birds, which were in one of the rooms, were suffocated or perished in the flames.

—Some more improvement on the original design having been made on the Winans steamer, a trial trip was had on Saturday last. The papers, however, are curiously silent as to the success of the trial, and the impression is that it was not particularly successful.

—The wealth of the United States, according to one estimate, amounts to $12,000,000,000, and the population is about twenty-four millions. This wealth, divided among the population, would give each person $500. The distribution, however, is not so equally made.

—A series of works is now in course of publication, by authority of the British Government, under the general name and title of "Chronicles and Memorials of Great Britain and Ireland during the Middle Ages." This comprises the history of Great Britain from the invasion by the Romans to the reign of Henry VIII. Of this series 18 volumes have been already published.

NEW JERSEY CONSERVATIVES FOR LINCOLN.—The Baltimore Patriot says:

A large number of the Conservative Democratic and Opposition manufacturers of Newark, New Jersey, whose trade with the South amounts to not less than fifteen millions a year, disgusted with the corruptions of Democratic rule have recently taken pains to ascertain Mr. Lincoln's views of public policy, by direct personal communication with him through one of their number; and they are so well satisfied of his conservatism and uprightness that they have determined to support him for President.

—Theodore Parker's Society is likely to continue. The Fraternity Lectures will be opened by Charles Sumner, and the course will be as brilliant as ever. Mr. Parker, by his will, gives many legacies. Mr. Wendell Philips has his English State Trials, and Mr. Sumner his Parliamentary History and Debates. Mrs. Parker is to have such books as she selects, even if the whole; those which she does not want are bequeathed to the city of Boston for the public library. Mr. Parker's property consisted mainly in his books, upon which he habitually spent about one-third of his income.

DISCOVERY OF COAL OIL.—The boring at the Salt Works is rapidly progressing, and the work is being pushed forward with all possible dispatch. At the depth of 75 feet a vein of coal bearing unmistakable evidence of profuse impregnation with oil was discovered. Professor Winchell, State Geologist, who spent a few days in this vicinity, stated that the indications of coal oil in this region, at various points, were very apparent and well defined.—Saginaw Spirit, 20*th*.

The receipts of Corn to-day were again large, amounting to 147,754 bushels, and the shipments to 136,906 bushels. The market opened quiet, but there was considerable activity before the close, and under the influence of dull news from New York, prices were about ½c lower. About 160,000 bushels of all grades changed hands, at 47½@48½c for Canal afloat; 47@47½c for No. 1; 46@46½c for No. 2; and 43c for Rejected—buyers at the close paying 47½c for No. 1. Wheat was in better demand, and an advance of 1c was gained, at which a considerable quantity changed hands—the market closing, however, rather dull and neglected. About 45,000 bushels were sold at $1,07@1.08 for No. 1 Spring; $1.06@1.06½ for No. 2 Spring; and 92c for Rejected. Flour was dull and sales limited at $4.85@5.00 for Spring extras. Oats dull, with limited sales at 27c in store. Rye and Barley were neglected. Highwines, 18½c. The receipts of Wool were heavier, and the market more active. A lot of about 6,000 lbs was sold by Wright & Beebe, at a range of 40@44½c—the highest price paid this season. Hides quiet.

Vessels continue scarce and freights remain firm. Two sail vessels were engaged at 5½c for wheat to Buffalo, and one propeller at 5½c for corn and 6c for wheat to Buffalo.

CORN SHIPPED DIRECT TO BOSTON.—This morning the well-known schooners Gem and J. H. Harmon, and the bark Norman, cleared for the port of Boston, Mass., with about 50,000 bushels corn. The shippers are Messrs. James, Peck & Co.

A MARE'S NEST DISCOVERED.—The Milwaukee Sentinel has made a discovery. It states that the exports of wheat from Chicago, as published in the PRESS AND TRIBUNE are 256,270 bushels more than the statements made out by a weekly paper, which it styles "the official organ of the Chicago Board of Trade." We have not seen the figures referred to as contained in the supposed "organ," but we know that ours are correct. Perhaps, if the Sentinel man again puts on his "specks," he will find that the one statement gives the entire shipments by both Lake and Railroads, and the other the shipments by Lake alone. Look, Mr. Sentinel, and see if you have not discovered a mare's nest.

NEW YORK HIDE MARKET.—June 27.—The market continues to show but little activity. The sales to-day were 3,000 Buenos Ayres, part to go East at 25½c, 6 mos; 500 Rio Grande at 21c, 6 mos.; 500 Orinoco, for Albany, 19½ lbs at 22½c, 6 mos.; 170 Texas 22 lbs at 17½c, less 4 per cent, and another lot ditto, 23 lbs, on private terms.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Receipts, 5,948 bbls flour, 34,117 bu wheat, 6,811 bu corn; 9,141 bu oats. The following from the New York Courier and Enquirer shows the receipts and shipments for the week:

MONTREAL WEEKLY MARKETS—June 25.—Flour—The market opened with a very light demand at quotations. Within the last four days, however, with news by two successive steamers, the demand has improved, and large sales of superfine have been made at gradually advancing prices—on Thursday at $5.30@5.35, and yesterday at $5.40@5.45. To-day the market is quiet but firm at $5.40 for ordinary brands, and for choice lots of fresh ground $5.45. Fancy and Extra are held relatively at the advance noted, but are almost nominal, the sales being of a retail character. The July delivery sales were reported on Thursday at $5.60 for superfine. Oatmeal—has been taken for shipment at $4.35@4.50, and is now firm at the latter rate. Indian meal—Is difficult of quotation. No demand. Grain—Wheat—several cargoes were taken during the week for shipment, U. C. spring $1.22@1.23, and Milwaukee No. 1 at $1.23. None now offering at these rates. Oats are still dull, unsalable at quotations. Peas have been sold at 75c, which is not now obtainable. Barley—The latest sales were at 65c, which is not now obtainable. Corn—Several lots have been on the market at 60c, at which there is no demand. Provisions—Beef is still firm at former quotations. Prime mess in tierces is held at $24, and barrels at $11@11.50. Pork—Mess has met a brisk demand, with sales at $19, holders now ask $19.25@19.50. Prime mess is still neglected. Prime is unchanged, but held firmly at quotations. Butter—No sales worth noting. Lard is unchanged; no large sales.

CROPS IN FRANCE.—The Paris correspondent of the London Times, under date of 11th inst., says:

The unfavorable accounts of the growing crops in the northern departments of France have produced a further rise in the flour and corn markets. These accounts are that the late cold weather has completely arrested the progress of the wheat crop in all the departments to the north of Paris. The fact is, complaints are heard in almost all the departments—the south and southwest excepted—that the wheat is thin and not sufficiently advanced.

With reference to the wheat crop in France, it is stated that in 27 districts the appearances are bad, in 28 districts doubtful, and in 10 districts good.

NEW ORLEANS—June 26.—Flour in good demand, and prices advancing; sales of superfine at $5.50@5.60. Corn in good demand, and prices firm at 65@67c. Mess Pork unchanged, and in limited demand at $19. Bacon being in light supply, has led to a firmer market, and prices are rather higher, closing at 8½c for shoulders and 10½c for sides. Lard unchanged and quiet. Whisky dull at 18½@19c for rectified. Sugar dull and prices nominal.

THE CROPS IN SANGAMON COUNTY.—The farmers of Sangamon and adjoining counties in Illinois, are now cutting their wheat. The general impression is that it will turn out a full average crop. Oats have improved greatly since the late rains, and bid fair for a good crop. Corn is in better order than has been known for years, and with an ordinary season the yield will be immense. So says the Springfield (Ill.) Journal.

SALE OF THE FINEST MULES IN THE WORLD.—When you beat Kentucky the world is beaten. Col. D. W. Jones, of this county, the "Napoleon of mule feeders," has sold to Geo. B. Moss & Co., for the Louisiana market, seventy-five head of two year old mules, at the unprecedented price of $210 per head! They are said to be undoubtedly the finest lot of mules ever in Kentucky. Boyle county against the world.

Col. Jones has also sold to Messrs Henry Chiles and T. W. Hieronymus, his five premium mules at $1,500 for the lot. They will be taken to the New Orleans market by Mr. Hieronimus.

THE RICE CROP.—A gentleman from Colleton informs us that the rice is in excellent condition and every prospect fine. Should the same fortune that has attended the crop thus far continue to [illegible] the biggest crop ever made will be the result.

On Combahee and Ashepoo, the planters have been some troubled by salt water, but by hard work and watchfulness, a favorable turn has been given to everything. The harvest flow is now being let on—a great deal being already on.

The rice is handsome and pure, the rains have kept down the grass, and the planters are in high spirits. The cotton crop is also good in that section.—Charleston Mercury.

CINCINNATI MARKETS.—June 28—Flour rests at yesterday's quotations. There is no local interest in it whatever. Shippers have no margin in any direction for consignments, and orders only come, as stocks at points of consumption which depend on our market become exhausted. No basis is presented for speculative operations, in any of the prospective vibrations that the market seems likely to make. $4.75 for plain superfine, $5 to $5.25 for plain to choice extras, and which to $5.80, may be given as the figures that is the market is very quietly moving; there is, not taken so freely by millers to [illegible]. Corn is however, no quotable change. [illegible] are making as in good demand, and sales [illegible] to 46@47c as the high as 48c. Distillers offer. Oats are quite best they are willing [illegible] quiet at 30 to 35c. Rye firm at 37@38c. [illegible] Whisky is quite firm at commands 78[illegible] 17½c.

ST. LOUIS MARKETS—June 28.—The Democrat of [illegible] day says:

The farmers being now busy harvesting, the receipts of country produce are almost entirely shut off; those of wheat and oats to-day were merely nominal. Of course, sales of what may be offered are easily made.

A large lot of Pork, mess and ordinary, which has been held here, sold to-day—1,000 brls mess at $18.50, and 500 mess ordinary at $17.75.

Bacon sells on orders to a fair extent—11½c for clear sides, and 8c for shoulders. The trade to the coast of various Southern rivers where our steamers ply, is constantly increasing, and becoming of more importance; our flour, provisions, groceries, etc., largely seek a market on the Tennessee and other rivers.

THE CROPS.—The N. Y. World of Thursday says:

The accounts from all parts of the country are of the most encouraging nature. This year promises to exceed all preceding, in solid prosperity; and if the prices of our cereals, are not suddenly raised by speculators, we shall probably ship largely of grain and other produce to Europe. The fall trade promises to be large; and the purchases conducted with prudence. There is a total absence of all speculative tendencies in the country, which augurs well for the future.

EXPORTS AT NEW YORK.—Thursday's New York Tribune has the following:

In the list of exports of produce for the week are included to Liverpool 16,200 bbls. flour, 179,000 bu. wheat, and 63 bu. corn; to Glasgow, 39,400 bu wheat, 6,300 bu corn; to Cork 20,900 bu corn; to Galway, 8,000 bu wheat.

FREIGHT ENGAGEMENTS AT NEW YORK.—Thursday's New York Tribune reports as follows:—To Liverpool: 1,500 boxes cheese (per steamer) at 50s.; 2,500 bbls flour at 1s. 10½d@2s; 45,000 bu wheat at 7½@7¾d., in bulk and bags; 50 boxes bacon (per steamer) at 35s.; 200 firkins butter (per steamer) at 50s. To London: 30,000 bu wheat at 9d in bulk and bags; 7,500 bbls flour at 2s. 9d@2s.10½d; 150 boxes bacon (per steamer) at 35s. To Glasgow: 2,500 bbls flour at 2s.6d; 8,000 bu wheat in shippers' bags at 8d.

NEW YORK CATTLE MARKET.

FOR THE WEEK ENDING JUNE 27.

(Abridged from Thursday's New York Tribune.)

Number reported for this market at 44th street......, 3,812

The prices to-day are quoted as follows:

First quality	8 @9
Medium	8 @8
Ordinary	7 @8
Some extra good Beeves	9½@—

The general average of the market at 8c.

The most of the sales range from 7½@8½c.

BEEVES FROM DIFFERENT STATES.

A. M. Allerton & Co., proprietors of the Washington Drove-yards, 44th street, report the Cattle in Market from the following States:

New York	120	Kentucky	125
Pennsylvania	26	Virginia	..
Ohio	779	Iowa	201
Indiana	316	Missouri	228
Illinois	2,009
Total			3,814

It appears that the decline in the price of beef has not yet found its lowest depth. The average price, which is quoted at the same figure as last week, is, in reality, lower, because the average quality is better. In fact, we never saw the quality so good in June as it has been this year, and it is particularly so this week. We estimate the quality fully equal, on the average, to a cent a pound better than it was in the corresponding week of last year, when the average price ran down to 8¼c a pound net. The difference, really, upon the same quality of cattle, is about 2¼c a pound. This is easily accounted for by a glance at the number in market this week, and at the number in the same week last year. Taking the month of June, '59, five weeks, and the last week in May and four weeks of June, '60, to make the months even, and the account stands thus:

	1859.	1860.
First week	2,565	3,709
Second week	3,646	4,725
Third week	3,682	4,295
Fourth week	3,173	4,768
Fifth week	3,834	4,372
Total	17,900	21,809

This shows an excess in June, 1860, of 3,909 head over June, 1859, which is sufficient to account for the lower prices, particularly when we consider that the average weight is also much higher. The average weight last June may be estimated at 7 cwt., and this year at 7½cwt. This shows in pounds of beef the supply for June, '59, 12,530,000 lbs; and for June, '60, 16,356,750 lbs, and an excess of 3,826,750 lbs over the corresponding time last year. If any one has faith in any increase of price, with such an excess in the supply as our reports indicate in the last six months, his faith exceeds ours. In the first six months of 1859, we reported 85,068 head of bullocks received. The first six months of 1860 we have had 101,291 head, showing an excess of 16,223 head, and the whole average this year full 50 lb heavier than last year.

THE CLOSE OF THE MARKET.

Fortunately for the drovers, the market to-day is no worse than it was yesterday. The weather is more favorable; in fact, it is quite endurable to day for the transaction of business in the cattle yards. Yesterday, for a part of the time, it was not so. The market opened this morning with no great show of business, it is true, but it is also true that the stock of cattle left over from yesterday was not large, a good number having been sold off in the cool of last evening. Some droves were entirely closed out, and there were but very few that were not more than half sold, so that the holders of the remainder had confidence in holding on for the full prices of yesterday. They found purchasers for all before night and if at the same prices per pound as they obtained last week, the actual value obtained by the butchers was greater. Quite a number of the bullocks sold to-day were to country butchers, who come in now from all the region, "thirty miles around New York."

It is supposed that the country butchers, if not all others, have bought more liberally this week, in anticipation of their wants next week, as the Fourth of July falls on Wednesday, so that nearly all the business must be done on Tuesday; and, as a smaller supply is anticipated, the buyers fear an advance of prices. It is probably this idea which has helped the market to-day to close so favorably for owners—that is, at a smaller loss than they had reason to expect with such a large stock on hand.

THE HOG MARKET.

The market to-day is bare of hogs; the total for the week has been light, but little over half what it was upon the corresponding week last year, and the price is a shade higher than it was then, and a little higher than it was last week. Henry D. Grant, Superintendant of Allerton's yards, quotes all corn fed hogs at 6¾@6⅞c a pound, gross, and heavy distillery hogs at 6@6¼c, and light ones at 6¼@6½c. There is a very slight demand for stock hogs, and a few of the right stripe would sell at good prices.

George W. Dorman gives the following as the

PRICE OF HOGS THIS WEEK.

	Live weight.	Dead weight.
First quality, corn-fed, large size	6¾@6⅞c.	8½@8⅝c.
Second quality, corn-fed	6½@6¾c.	8 @8¼c.
First quality, small sizes, fat and prime, for market butchers	6½@6¾c.	8c@8⅜c.
Large size, still-fed, fat	6 @6¼c.	7¾@7⅞c.
Second qual'ty, still fed, light	5¾@6c.	7½@8 c.
Small sizes choice stock hogs	Not wanted.
Ordinary or common stock	Not wanted.

Arrival of the Overland Mail—A Probable Republican Triumph in Oregon.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—The Butterfield Overland mail coach reached Springfield to-day, with San Francisco papers of the 8th, and dates by telegraph to Vesalia of the 9th. News was received by telegraph from the two southern counties of Oregon yesterday, giving returns of the election. Jackson county gave Shiel, Dem. candidate for Congress, 830; Logan, Rep., 463. The entire Democratic legislative ticket was elected.

Josephine county, is reported Shiel 298, Logan 137. Logan's vote in Jackson is a gain of 100 on his vote of last year, when he was defeated in the State by only 16 votes.

These returns are encouraging to the Republicans, and indicate a possibility that a Legislature has been chosen which will in August elect two Republican U. S. Senators.

The schooner Ewing brings news from San Blas, Mexico, to the 18th ult.

Two English men-of-war had landed portions of their crews and taken possession of San Blas, and were holding it against the Liberals. The acting Government and Custom House officers had granted an officer from the British man-of-war the privilege of taking a Mexican schooner, putting an English crew on board, and hoisting the British ensign, for the purpose of smuggling silver up the coast. This is the language of the report received, but whether the design is to assist British subjects to smuggle, or to prevent the exaction of the duties on silver by different sets of Revolutionists, is probably a matter of opinion.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH TO VESALIA.—SAN FRANCISCO, 9th—10 P. M.—Trade has been steady for the past week. There is an increased demand for some descriptions of goods. Provisions unchanged, but firmer. Coffee unchanged. Coal inactive. Rice improved. Raw sugars heavy.

A company of twenty picked men, well armed, left Carson City to-day, escorting the Pony Express.

The Indians have fled from Pyramid Lake without giving fight. The volunteers are to be disbanded.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Among the acts passed by the late session of Congress was one to carry into effect certain stipulations in the treaty between the United States and China, Japan, Siam, Turkey, Persia, Tripoli, Tunis, Morocco and Muscat, by which our laws in criminal and civil matters are extended over American citizens in those countries, also the common laws of equity and admiralty. Ministers and Consuls have full judicial power, and can punish according to the magnitude of the offence. The President is authorized to appoint seven Marshals to execute processes, one in Japan, four in China, one in Siam, one in Turkey. Murder and insurrection or rebellion against the government of either of said countries, with the intent to subvert the same, are made capital offences, punishable with death. Our Consuls and commercial agents on Islands not inhabited by any civilized people, or whom we have not recognised by treaty, are also empowered to exercise judicial functions over American citizens.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—For the Douglas ratification meeting in Independence Square Saturday night, Reverdy Johnson, Jno. Cochrane and Maj. Herran of La. are promised certain, with other eminent speakers, notwithstanding the briefness of the notice.

It is stated on good authority that the Douglasites will refuse all overtures on the part of the Breckinridgeites to unite on the electoral ticket, and will demand an expression of preference from the electors appointed by the Reading Convention, and amend the list if necessary.

A Lincoln Ratification Meeting in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, June 28.—The Republican demonstration to-night, ratifying the nomination of Lincoln and Hamlin, is a grand and imposing affair, embracing a torch-light procession, illuminations, &c. The mass meeting is held in State House Square, where addresses are being made by Hon. E. H. Rollins, Gov. Goodwin, Ex-Gov. Colby and others. Altogether it is one of the most enthusiastic political demonstrations ever held in the State.

Gen. Cass Snubbed at Detroit.

DETROIT, June 29.—At the Democratic State Convention yesterday, it was announced that Gen. Cass was in the city. A motion to invite him to attend the Convention was laid on the table. A subsequent motion to recall it was voted down by a decisive majority, as was the resolution endorsing the foreign and domestic policy of the present National Administration.

Resolutions approving the nomination of Douglas and Johnson were passed.

Notwithstanding the rain last evening, the ratification meeting was large. Addresses by several speakers from different States were delivered.

Grand Ratification Meeting at Dixon.

DIXON, Ill., June 29.—The Republicans of Lee, Ogle and Whiteside, met in mass convention at this place yesterday. Speeches were made by Hon. I. N. Arnold and J. V. Eustace, of Chicago, and Hon. Leonard Swett of Bloomington, and others, who were listened to during the afternoon. In the evening the Wide Awake clubs of Dixon and Amboy paraded the streets. Hon. L. Swett and J. V. Eustace addressed the people, and were well received and listened to during a drizzling rain. The crowd in attendance is estimated at from 4,000 to 6,000.

A Missing Man Heard From.

NEW HAVEN, June 29.—A strange development has just been made in regard to the whereabouts of E. L. De Forest, who was missed from the Metropolitan Hotel, New York, on the 17th of January, 1857, and who was supposed to have been murdered. A letter was received this morning by the Cashier of the New Haven Bank, signed by De Forest, dated Melbourne, April 16th, 1860, inquiring after his back dividends, which he says he has not drawn for some time past. He adds that he has given the power of attorney to Messrs. Moyler, Lord & Queercan, Wall street, New York, to enable them to receive his dividends. He also asks a statement of the amount so paid, and the price of the stock at the latest sales.

A careful comparison of the letter with other of his manuscripts shows a striking resemblance throughout, and no doubt is expressed of the genuineness of the letter. It comes by way of London and Boston.

From Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—Prof. Lowe ascended last evening in his mammoth balloon and landed at 7 o'clock in Medford, N. J.

Judge Douglas will arrive here on Saturday night en route to New York, and will probably receive a serenade after the ratification meeting.

☞ Oak Orchard Acid Spring Water. This Water is gaining great celebrity, and the demand for it is increasing rapidly. Its beneficial character is attested by thousands, and it is pronounced by distinguished physicians to be superior to any other medicinal Spring Water now in use. The almost miraculous cures which it has performed lead us to believe that it is destined to become extensively used in the treatment of very many diseases which ordinary remedies fail to cure. Its curative properties are established beyond question, and we feel assured that it must, to a great extent, supersede many of the artificial compounds of the day. We recommend those of our readers who may be suffering from general debility, or from any of the diseases for which this Water is prescribed, to give it a trial. OAK ORCHARD

Acid Springs!

These Springs are situated in the valley of the Oak Orchard Creek, in the town of Alabama, Genesee county, N. Y., eight miles South of the village of Medina, on the Erie Canal, and fourteen miles from Batavia.

☞ The principal Acid Springs are three in number besides these there are six others. They are all located within a circuit of about fifty rods. The medicinal qualities of the waters are fully shown in the subjoined testimonials. They contain a very large amount of Sulphur, Sulphuric Acid, Sulphate of Lime, and Proto-Sulphate of Iron. The great medicinal virtues possessed by the waters depend very largely upon the presence, in such unusual quantities, of these curative substances.

Hundreds of cases of disease, especially those resulting from the scrofulous diathesis, have been cured by their use.

☞ In skin diseases—even in confirmed leprosy—the waters have been signally successful.

Opinions of medical and scientific gentlemen are given in the circulars. The following eminent gentlemen speak in strong terms of the medical value of these waters:—Prof. EMMONS, T. ROMEYN BECK, M. D., of Albany; JAS. MCNAUGHTON, M. D., of Albany; EDWARD SPRING, M. D., of New York; DR. R. CAMPBELL, of Pittsfield, Mass.; DR. J. S. SOSULER, of Lockport, N. Y. They recommend the waters confidently. Dr. Spring refers to a case of chronic diarrhea of several years' standing, which was cured by the use of the water. Dr. Beck says, "I am satisfied that these waters are highly valuable as medicinal agents." Dr. Campbell says, "They must be highly beneficial for all chronic diseases of the stomach and bowels."

Dr. S. P. WHITE read a paper on the subject of these Waters, before the Academy of Physicians in the city of New York, in which he states that the Waters possess decidedly tonic, refrigerant, and astringent properties; and that the class of diseases to which they are more particularly adapted, are chronic affections of the digestive and urinary organs, and some of the cutaneous diseases; chronic dyspepsia; chronic diarrhea; chronic dysentery; chronic diuresis; chronic cystitis; diabetes; cases of passive hemorrhage, such as Purpura hemorrhagica, and the colliquative sweats of Hectic Fever. The Water may also be often used with advantage, he says, in cases of low typhoid fevers; in convalescence from protracted fevers, to excite the appetite and promote digestion; in diarrheas, particularly such as are dependent on a relaxed or ulcerated state of the mucous membrane of the intestines. In calculous affections, or lithiasis attended with phosphatic sediments, it is the suitable remedy, being preferable to muriatic acid, as being more solvent, and less apt by continued use to disorder the stomach. In febrile diseases it can be used, properly diluted, as a refrigerant to diminish thirst and preternatural heat. In skin diseases—in those forms of dyspepsia connected with the alkaline condition of the stomach, as in Pyrosis, or water brash, it will prove better than hydrochloric acid. In cases of Colica pictonum, and other injurious consequences arising from the action of lead, this water will prove to be an admirable antidote. In chronic pharyngitis, laryngitis, chronic mucous catarrh, and humid asthma, chronic ophthalmia (externally) as a gargle in ulcerated sore throats, in cases of salivation, and in leucorrhea and gleet; and also in piles.

When taken internally, a WINE GLASSFUL of the Water, diluted, taken three times a day, is sufficient for an adult.

Other testimonials from physicians, and other respectable individuals, may be seen on application to the Agent.

Dealers supplied on liberal terms.

No Water genuine unless procured from

VERY IMPORTANT INFORMATION.—The Illinois Starch Company, at Ottawa, are now manufacturing the purest Starch in the world. In body, quality and whiteness it cannot be excelled, and being manufactured entirely with spring water, which is naturally soft as rain water, it contains no nefarious chemicals. Hence it is infinitely more desirable for food and laundry purposes than any other in use. As an assurance to the public of the merits of the Starch, any amount of the most satisfactory references could be given, but in this case references seem to be unnecessary, as all by procuring a little for trial can satisfy themselves. In buying the Starch be particular in seeing that it is taken from boxes marked

ILLINOIS STARCH COMPANY,

McGinnis, Maker.

To Wholesale Dealers the Company would say with our unequalled facility for manufacturing, and the very great advantage we have over all other factories of purchasing corn at low prices, we can sell you at figures that will make it to your interest to send us your orders. Every box of starch that leaves the factory is warranted equal if not superior to any produced in the world. All orders and communications addressed Illinois Starch Company, Ottawa, Illinois, will receive prompt attention. je21-c634-6m

SOYER'S SULTANA SAUCE, For Hot and Cold Dishes of all kinds. This most delicious and appetising sauce, invented by the renowned "Soyer," for the London Reform Club, is, since his decease manufactured by the well known house of Crosse & Blackwell, London, from the original recipe. It is the favorite sauce in England, and on the Continent, with a high and growing reputation among American Epicures, and is much approved of as a stimulant to the appetite and to digestion.

OPINIONS OF THE LONDON PRESS.

"We recommend our correspondent to try Mons. Soyer's new Sauce, entitled the 'Sultana Sauce.' It is made after the Turkish recipe; its flavor is excellent, and it affords considerable aid in cases of slow and weak digestion."—[The Lancet.
